Tutors Strike, Pupils Riot in New York City

School Authorities Seek To Keep Class Activities Going

NEW YORK (AP)—A teacher strike for more pay disrupted school operations throughout the city today and led to a pupil riot at a school on Manhattan's Lower East Side.

The disorder erupted at the Seward Park High School shortly after the bell rang for morning classes. Rowdiness broke out among 2,300 pupils who had first gathered in the auditorium.

They began throwing papers out the windows then were ordered from the school when 15 non-striking teachers and four policemen were unable to control them.

As the pupils reached the street, about half a dozen boys began swinging wildly at each other as hundreds of others milled about. Police waded in to halt the battle. Reinforcements were summoned.

Police expressed belief that the presence of a television truck and camera crew recording the scene may have prompted the students to put on something of a show. Most of the school's teachers were marching in a picket line around the building.

There were conflicting reports on the immediate effectiveness of the strike from a citywide standpoint. Authorities sought to keep classes going with teachers who did not join in the walkout.

Representatives of the teachers union that struck claimed that schools other than Seward Park had been forced to close. The Board of Education denied it. A union spokesman said he expected most of the city's schools would be closed sooner or later. He said more than 4,000 teachers were picketing. This would be about one-tenth the total employed.

The striking teachers defied both nonstrike laws and threats of dismissal to stage their walkout, called in protest of what they termed a starvation budget.

At a meeting attended by 5,000 of the 40,000 teachers Tuesday night, members of the United Federation of Teachers shouted down President Charles Cogen's postponement plea and elected by a (Continued on Page 2)

Falling Tree Strikes Wires

Donald Colegrove of the General Telephone Co. office announced that a service outage occurred early today when a sub-contractor clearing a highway right-of-way five miles east of Williamsport on Route 22 felled a tree across the telephone service lines.

The outage affected toll services, local subscribers and some special services in the Williamsport area. Colegrove said necessary repairs were being made and that complete service would be restored today.

The call reporting the outage was received at 7:45 a. m. By 8 a. m. two repair crews had been dispatched to the area to make necessary repairs. Partial service was restored by 10:30.

FHA Foreclosures Hit 22-Year High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreclosures on homes and small businesses have reached the highest level in 22 years, it was disclosed Tuesday. The spurt may prompt tighter credit-checking of home buyers by the Federal Housing Administration.

A total of 73,074 homeowners a businessmen lost their property for foreclosure in 1961, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported. This was an increase of 42 per cent from the previous year and almost matched the 75,556 recorded in 1948.

The FHA, finding itself forced to take possession of an increasing number of dwellings whose mortgages it had insured, has launched an inquiry into the causes. The nationwide review of defaults on FHA-insured mortgages may result in action tightening credit investigating requirements imposed on lending institutions.

Judge Levies Price-Fix Fines, Urges New Look at U.S. Laws

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal judge, fining nine individuals and 10 companies in a price-fixing case here, said he felt "it might be well if someone took another look at the federal laws which govern operation of business in this country."

District Judge Carl A. Weinman spoke for a half hour from the bench late Tuesday before imposing fines totaling $134,000. He warned that competition has grown and is growing greatly since formation of the European Common Market in 1957, adding:

"Maybe someone should represent business, which includes labor, in Washington. Maybe we've got to sit down and take another look at these laws if we want to compete in the world today."

Clay Ending Job as JFK's Berlin Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay will shortly wind up his duties as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin but will continue to serve as a special consultant to the President on Berlin policy, informants reported today.

Clay left Berlin today for Washington. He said he would report to the President Thursday and expected to return to Berlin Sunday.

"Any further announcements will be made from Washington after I have reported to the President," Clay's statement said.

The informants in Washington said Clay will go back to Berlin next weekend for a short time but that it is definite his assignment as Kennedy's special representative in the crisis-ridden city is coming to an end.

Clay, 65, undertook the job on a temporary basis last summer in the period of intense crisis following Communist construction of the wall sealing off East Berlin. Termination of the assignment apparently is related to the drop in tension which has followed the talks in Geneva last month between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Clay is expected to go back to work as chairman of the board of Continental Can Co. as soon as he can wrap up his affairs in Berlin.

Ohio's Winter Wheat Production Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Agriculture Department crop report shows indicated production in Ohio of 35,140,000 bushels of winter wheat.

Stocks of crops stored on Ohio farms, as of April 1, are estimated as follows (in bushels): old crop wheat, 1,807,000; corn for grain 93,869,000; oats 12,898,000 and soybeans 13,018,000.

CHICAGO (AP)—A distraught father says the Russians trapped his younger daughter behind the Iron Curtain after she returned to Lithuania to marry her high school sweetheart.

"I had warned Regina for a long time that she should not return to (Lithuania) Vilnius," said the father, Paulius Leonas. "I warned her again at the airport. But she didn't want to believe it."

Leonas talked freely but angrily about an article in the Soviet newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda Tuesday. The article quoted him for the price-fixing scheme on William W. Garstang, a former official of the Allen-Bradley Co. of Milwaukee, Wis. The case involved a multi-million dollar price-fixing scheme to sell electronic parts to the Dayton Air Force Depot.

"Only the fact that you pleaded guilty is keeping you out of jail," the judge told Garstang as he fined him $5,000 and levied another $12,000 fine against his company.

"You were dominant, using coercion and force in this conspiracy; you called the 14 meetings with other firms and used bullying and pressure tactics to secure the price you wanted," the judge told Garstang.

He added that the low prices were meant to "force smaller competition out of business." Garstang and the other firms and individuals arraigned had been indicted in January by a federal grand jury on 22 counts of violating the Sherman Anti-trust and Clayton Acts.

The judge, in suspending a $1,500 fine given another defendant, George Risk, president of the now-defunct Dale Products Co. of Columbus, Neb., said, "Risk is the Horatio Alger of his home town, a remarkable man who was forced into the price-fixing agreement to keep his company and employment in his community alive."

Both firms and individuals were given 10 days in which to pay their fines or face imprisonment.

Other companies and individuals and their fines included: Daystrom Inc., Murray Hill, N.J., $10,000; Electra Manufacturing Co., Independence, Kan., $15,000; International Resistance Co., Philadelphia, $25,000; Aerovox Corp., New Bedford, Mass., $17,000; Stackpole Carbon Co., St. Marys, Pa., $10,000; Indiana General Corp., Valparaiso, Ind., $8,000.

Texas Instruments Inc., Dallas, $15,000; Clarostate Manufacturing Co., Dover, N.H., $5,000; Dale Products Inc., Columbus, Neb., $3,000; Wilbert Steinkamp, Daystrom Inc., $1,000; John Bouwmeester, Indiana General, $1,000; James M. Kramps, Aerovox Corp., $500; Charles Golenpaul, Armonix Corp., $1,000; Richard Burton, Electra Manufacturing Co., $1,500; suspended; Leonard Maguire, Texas Instruments, $1,000; D.P. "I'm prepared to fight—to fight for my own family," Leonas asserted. "Regina had love for that boy, not for Moscow."

Leonas, 45, a real estate broker, said Regina had mixed emotions when she left March 21 for Lithuania, formerly a nation but now a state in the Soviet Union.

Steel Price Boost Brings Rumbblings in Washington

West Stalemated On Test Ban Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain appeared today to be completely stalled against an unyielding wall of Soviet opposition in their last-ditch effort to get Moscow's agreement to an enforceable treaty banning nuclear tests.

While formally expressing hope that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will yet reverse his policy against an international inspection system to police a test ban, officials here actually see no prospect that this will happen.

President Kennedy is therefore going ahead with plans to start atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons in about two weeks. The tests will be held over the Central Pacific during a period of about two months, and officials indicate that there will be between 30 and 40 nuclear explosions involved.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons in London Tuesday that he will go on pressing for East-West agreement on a test ban "to the last possible moment."

It became apparent Tuesday that while Kennedy has shown reluctance to go into the test series, Macmillan is under much greater home-front political pressure to continue demonstrating the desire to put an end to all tests.

By agreement between Kennedy and Macmillan, the United States and Britain issued a joint statement which amounted to a warning to the Russians and to the world that without a change in the Soviet position, "the test series scheduled for the latter part of this month will go forward."

Macmillan also sent a new personal message to Khrushchev making a direct appeal for a modification of Soviet policy with the argument that the purpose of inspection "is not to increase suspicion but to dispel it."

He thus sought to overcome the Soviet contention that the Western powers want to put international inspection teams on Soviet territory for purposes of espionage.

The essence of Macmillan's argument, made many times in recent weeks by U.S. and British leaders, is that without a system of international verification none of the big powers could be sure that a test ban was being faithfully observed, and therefore suspicion of violations would inevitably grow up.

Church Merger Chances Grow

7 Protestant Groups May Approve Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad scale attempt to unite a large part of American protestantism today was off to a vigorous start.

How far it will get, and at what pace it will move, hinged on many unknown factors.

But leaders of four major denominations, the United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and United Church of Christ, not only gave the effort a firm, initial push, but set up machinery to keep it going and expanded it by asking three other church bodies to take part.

The four-way merger project became a likely seven-way affair, involving communions with about 23 million members.

On Tuesday, at the end of a two-day conference held to make a preliminary appraisal of the prospects, denominational representatives said they found grounds for genuine confidence that such a united church could become a reality.

"Decisions made and attitudes revealed here carried us much further than we had dared hope," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church.

Similar reactions came from leaders of the three other denominations.

The conference, which originally planned to defer any operational decisions until the next meeting, acted instead to set up immediately a continuing consultation on church union.

The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, Presbyterian, was named chairman, and Methodist Charles C. Parlin, a New York lawyer, was named secretary.

Although the next full meeting won't come until a year from now, subcommittees were to work during the interim to try to resolve various issues.

The three other denominations being invited to join in the effort are the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), the Evangelical United Brethren and the Polish National Catholic Church of America.

Carborundum Company President Dies at 59

NEW YORK (AP)—Clinton R. Robinson, 59, president of the Carborundum Co., which operates 58 plants and distributing facilities in 16 countries, died Tuesday. Robinson, who suffered from a heart condition, became president of the company in 1952 after retiring from the Army as a major general after 24 years of service. He was born in Danville, Ohio.

Chicagoan Fears Daughter Trapped by Reds

"She expected happiness in marriage," he said. "She wouldn't believe us when we told her the danger of communism—that the Russians might be setting a trap for her. She had not been entirely happy here because she was lonely for the boy."

Leonas and his wife, Elena, 44, fled their Lithuanian home in 1944 for Germany, leaving Regina and their son, Tomas, now 20, with their maternal grandparents on a farm near Vilnius.

The Leonas' spent three years in Germany, three years in England and three years in Canada before coming to Chicago in 1953. They became citizens in 1959.

Justice Agency Hints Possible Antitrust Probe

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The giant U.S. Steel Corp., a leader in one of the nation's basic industries, increased its prices today.

The price hike, announced Tuesday added an average of $6 to the cost of a ton of steel, which has been selling for a little more than $150.

What effect it will have on the prices of other steel firms was not immediately determined. U.S. Steel, biggest producer in the nation, customarily sets the price pattern for the industry.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and the Justice Department said they would investigate the steel price situation and hinted at possible antitrust action if there is a general round of price hikes in the industry.

Steel prices have an effect on prices in the auto, construction and appliance industries, all big steel users.

The increase came less than a week after U.S. Steel and 10 other big firms signed new two-year labor contracts with the United Steelworkers to take effect July 1.

Those pacts, granting a 10-cent-an-hour package increase to each basic steelworker, were hailed by President Kennedy as responsible and noninflationary, adhering to the President's plea for an early, noninflationary steel settlement.

President Leslie B. Worthington of U.S. Steel said the price hike was necessary because of a continuing cost-price squeeze on profits since 1958. He said these costs have continued to rise without even considering higher labor costs after July 1 under the new contracts.

Worthington described the price increase as modest, amounting to about three-tenths of a cent a (Continued on Page 2)

Ford Cancels Small-Small Auto Plans

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. will not build a small-small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement Tuesday night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

This would make it available for import if the market changes. Ford personally never had confirmed the Cardinal. However, in a stock prospectus issued only last month, the company said it was developing such a car for fall introduction if market conditions looked favorable.

The Cardinal was to be of Volkswagen size and price, powered with a V-4 engine and front-wheel drive. A dozen hand-built prototypes had been assembled with full production slated for early July at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant.

Development of the Cardinal began five years ago and was accelerated in 1959 when sales of small foreign cars reached their peak in this country of some 610,000 units. Imports have skidded sharply since '59, totaling less than 375,000 in 1961.

Kennedy Expected To Rip Steel Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will say what he thinks of U.S. Steel price increase in a statement at his news conference today. He is certain to say he doesn't like it.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, said Kennedy received his first word of the $6-per-ton price hike by U.S. Steel from Roger Blough, board chairman of the firm, at a personal meeting in the White House late Tuesday.

Hatcher said Blough requested the appointment, and came from Pittsburgh to see the President. They were together in Kennedy's office for nearly an hour, starting at 5:40 p.m. Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg also was present.

There had been no indication at the time that Kennedy had met with Blough.

Kennedy also discussed the surprise move with Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economics Advisers and several Cabinet officers.

The Justice Department has said it will investigate the price move.

Goldberg was among government officials at the White House this morning. Hatcher characterized their meeting with Kennedy as a normal procedure on the day of a news conference. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also were present.

Hatcher said Kennedy and Goldberg had reviewed events including the steel-price hike and the West Coast maritime strike.

Asked particularly if Kennedy was unhappy at the increase by U.S. Steel, Hatcher said he was sure the President's statement at his news conference will reflect his temper.

He didn't elaborate on the word "temper."

Other officials withheld comment. But an official of the Commerce Department said Secretary Luther H. Hodges was concerned, surprised and shocked.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said his House Antitrust subcommittee will begin an inquiry immediately.

Caller called the price hike a selfish, inflationary action and sounded a warning to other steel companies who may be considering following suit.

Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., of the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee is also planning to investigate.

Centaur Rocket Firing Awaited

Trouble Plagues First International 'Moon'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Scientists turn attention today to the maiden flight of the high-energy Centaur space rocket after being frustrated in an effort to launch the world's first international satellite.

Trouble with a second-stage fuel valve Wednesday halted the attempt to fire a United States-British satellite into orbit. The postponement disappointed 70 members of the United Nations committee on peaceful uses of outer space who flew here for a tour of the Cape and to observe the launching.

Included in the U.N. group were representatives of six Communist bloc countries. Two Russians declined an invitation to make the trip.

Another try to launch the Anglo-American satellite, which is to study the ionosphere and cosmic radiation, may be made later this week.

A reschedule today was impossible because the range already was reserved for the Centaur, launching of which was postponed twice last week because of weather.

The first Centaur flight is intended to be a 15-minute ballistic flight to check rocket systems and the performance of liquid hydrogen fuel in space. The Centaur second stage has the first rocket engines to be propelled by hydrogen.

Centaur eventually will lift 4½-ton satellites into orbit and push larger probes to the Moon, Mars and Venus.

Billboard Ban Ruled Illegal

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio law banning billboards from interstate highways is unconstitutional, Allen County Common Pleas Judge John H. Davison ruled today.

The judge said "the law deprives property owners of their property without due process of law, being an unwarranted exercise of police power of state in a manner which has no substantial relationship to public health, morals, safety and welfare."

In his 15-page opinion, Davison concluded signs are not a threat to public safety and do not constitute a traffic hazard. He also said they are not a public or private nuisance and the legislation consequently is arbitrary and unreasonable.

Accompanist for the Junior High Chorus will be Pam Parker and Gretchen Hott for the Senior High Chorus.

Merchants Press For Free Parking

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Painesville merchants' campaign to raise $185,000 to finance free parking in off-street municipal parking lots has received its first contribution.

Officials at the Gail G. Grant Co., a department store, pledged $15,000 Tuesday to be paid over a five-year period. Campaign officials are hopeful the total goal can be reached.

Store owners contend the new metered parking spaces drive potential customers to outlying shopping centers, where parking is free.

The $185,000, to be raised over five years, would be used to pay the city's annual cost of about $33,000 in maintaining the lots, lighting and other commitments. City officials have agreed to remove the parking meters if the income could be insured.

The former Canteen site, above the First National Bank, has been closed. All activities will now be centered at the Memorial Hall location.

A special work meeting has been planned for 8 p. m. today in the new rooms. Members are requested to come prepared to help with moving.

The Canteen will not be open during library hours, it was announced today.

Permission to use the Memorial Hall as a new site was granted several days ago by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners. The move from the First National Bank was prompted by the institution's current plans for expansion and building.

Dirksen Renominated

inspection teams on Soviet territory for purposes of espionage.

The essence of Macmillan's argument, made many times in recent weeks by U.S. and British leaders, is that without a system of international verification none of the big powers could be sure that a test ban was being faithfully observed, and therefore suspicion of violations would inevitably grow up.

Church Merger Chances Grow

7 Protestant Groups May Approve Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad scale attempt to unite a large part of American protestantism today was off to a vigorous start.

How far it will get, and at what pace it will move, hinged on many unknown factors.

But leaders of four major denominations, the United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and United Church of Christ, not only gave the effort a firm, initial push, but set up machinery to keep it going and expanded it by asking three other church bodies to take part.

The four-way merger project became a likely seven-way affair, involving communions with about 23 million members.

On Tuesday, at the end of a two-day conference held to make a preliminary appraisal of the prospects, denominational representatives said they found grounds for genuine confidence that such a united church could become a reality.

"Decisions made and attitudes revealed here carried us much further than we had dared hope," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church.

Similar reactions came from leaders of the three other denominations.

The conference, which originally planned to defer any operational decisions until the next meeting, acted instead to set up immediately a continuing consultation on church union.

The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, Presbyterian, was named chairman, and Methodist Charles C. Parlin, a New York lawyer, was named secretary.

Although the next full meeting won't come until a year from now, subcommittees were to work during the interim to try to resolve various issues.

The three other denominations being invited to join in the effort are the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), the Evangelical United Brethren and the Polish National Catholic Church of America.

Carborundum Company President Dies at 59

NEW YORK (AP)—Clinton R. Robinson, 59, president of the Carborundum Co., which operates 58 plants and distributing facilities in 16 countries, died Tuesday.

Robinson, who suffered from a heart condition, became president of the company in 1952 after retiring from the Army as a major general after 24 years of service. He was born in Danville, Ohio.

Justice Agency Hints Possible Antitrust Probe

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The giant U.S. Steel Corp., a leader in one of the nation's basic industries, increased its prices today.

The price hike, announced Tuesday added an average of $6 to the cost of a ton of steel, which has been selling for a little more than $150.

What effect it will have on the prices of other steel firms was not immediately determined. U.S. Steel, biggest producer in the nation, customarily sets the price pattern for the industry.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and the Justice Department said they would investigate the steel price situation and hinted at possible antitrust action if there is a general round of price hikes in the industry.

Steel prices have an effect on prices in the auto, construction and appliance industries, all big steel users.

The increase came less than a week after U.S. Steel and 10 other big firms signed new two-year labor contracts with the United Steelworkers to take effect July 1.

Those pacts, granting a 10-cent-an-hour package increase to each basic steelworker, were hailed by President Kennedy as responsible and noninflationary, adhering to the President's plea for an early, noninflationary steel settlement.

President Leslie B. Worthington of U.S. Steel said the price hike was necessary because of a continuing cost-price squeeze on profits since 1958. He said these costs have continued to rise without even considering higher labor costs after July 1 under the new contracts.

Worthington described the price increase as modest, amounting to about three-tenths of a cent a (Continued on Page 2)

Ford Cancels Small-Small Auto Plans

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. will not build a small-small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement Tuesday night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

This would make it available for import if the market changes.

Ford personally never had confirmed the Cardinal. However, in a stock prospectus issued only last month, the company said it was developing such a car for fall introduction if market conditions looked favorable.

The Cardinal was to be of Volkswagen size and price, powered with a V-4 engine and front-wheel drive. A dozen hand-built prototypes had been assembled with full production slated for early July at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant.

Development of the Cardinal began five years ago and was accelerated in 1959 when sales of small foreign cars reached their peak in this country of some 610,000 units. Imports have slid sharply since then, totaling less than 375,000 in 1961.

Kennedy Expected To Rip Steel Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will say what he thinks of U.S. Steel price increase in a statement at his news conference today. He is certain to say he doesn't like it.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, said Kennedy received his first word of the $6-per-ton price hike by U.S. Steel from Roger Blough, board chairman of the firm, at a personal meeting in the White House late Tuesday.

Hatcher said Blough requested the appointment, and came from Pittsburgh to see the President. They were together in Kennedy's office for nearly an hour, starting at 5:40 p.m. Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg also was present.

There had been no indication at the time that Kennedy had met with Blough.

Kennedy also discussed the surprise move with Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economics Advisers and several Cabinet officers.

The Justice Department has said it will investigate the price move.

Goldberg was among government officials at the White House this morning. Hatcher characterized their meeting with Kennedy as a normal procedure on the day of a news conference. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also were present.

Hatcher said Kennedy and Goldberg had reviewed events including the steel-price hike and the West Coast maritime strike.

Asked particularly if Kennedy was unhappy at the increase by U.S. Steel, Hatcher said he was sure the President's statement at the news conference will reflect his temper.

He didn't elaborate on the word "temper."

Cabinet officers withheld comment. But an official of the Commerce Department said Secretary Luther H. Hodges was concerned, surprised and shocked.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said his House Antitrust subcommittee will begin an inquiry immediately.

Celler called the price hike a selfish, inflationary action and said it sounded a warning to other steel companies who may be considering following suit.

Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., of the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee is also planning to investigate.

Centaur Rocket Firing Awaited

Trouble Plagues First International 'Moon'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Scientists turn attention today to the maiden flight of the high-energy Centaur space rocket after being frustrated in an effort to launch the world's first international satellite.

Trouble with a second-stage fuel valve Wednesday halted the attempt to fire a United States-British satellite into orbit. The postponement disappointed 70 members of the United Nations committee on peaceful uses of outer space who flew here for a tour of the Cape and to observe the launching.

Included in the U.N. group were representatives of six Communist bloc countries. Two Russians declined an invitation to make the trip.

Another try to launch the Anglo-American satellite, which is to study the ionosphere and cosmic radiation, may be made later this week.

A reschedule today was impossible because the range already was reserved for the Centaur, launching of which was postponed twice last week because of weather.

The first Centaur flight is intended to be a 15-minute ballistic flight to check rocket systems and the performance of liquid hydrogen fuel in space. The Centaur second stage has the first rocket engines to be propelled by hydrogen.

Centaur eventually will lift 4½-ton satellites into orbit and push large probes to the Moon, Mars and Venus.

Billboard Ban Ruled Illegal

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio law banning billboards on interstate highways is unconstitutional, Allen County Common Pleas Judge John H. Davison ruled today.

The judge said "the law deprives property owners of their property without due process of law, being an unwarranted exercise of police power of state in a manner which has no substantial relationship to public health, morals, safety and welfare."

In his 15-page opinion, Davison concluded signs are not a threat to public safety and do not constitute a traffic hazard. He also said they are not a public or private nuisance and the legislation consequently is arbitrary and unreasonable.

Accompanist for the Junior High Chorus will be Pam Parker and Gretchen Hott for the Senior High Chorus.

Merchants Press

For Free Parking

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Painesville merchants' campaign to raise $165,000 to finance free parking in off-street municipal parking lots has received its first contribution.

Officials at the Gail G. Grant Co., a department store, pledged $15,000 Tuesday to be paid over a five-year period. Campaign officials are hopeful the total goal can be reached.

Store owners contend the new metered parking spaces drive potential customers to outlying shopping centers, where parking is free.

The $165,000, to be raised over five years, would be used to pay the city's annual cost of about $33,000 in maintaining the lots, lighting and other commitments. City officials have agreed to remove the parking meters if the income could be insured.

Chicagoan Fears Daughter Trapped by Reds

CHICAGO (AP)—A distraught father says the Russians trapped his younger daughter behind the Iron Curtain after she returned to Lithuania to marry her high school sweetheart.

"I had warned Regina for a long time that she should not return to (Lithuania) Vilnius," said the father, Paulius Leonas. "I warned her again at the airport. But she didn't want to believe it."

Leonas talked freely but angrily about an article in the Soviet newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda Tuesday. The article quoted his daughter, Regina Leonas, 22, as saying the United States was a money-mad society and that she wanted to stay in her native Lithuania and never return to America.

"Our daughter is an actual prisoner," Leonas said. "She would never have made those statements, because they are contrary to her convictions. She was forced by threats of violence."

"Regina would be ashamed if she saw what has been printed about her."

Regina and her brother were separated from their parents for 16 years during and after World War II. Regina returned to Vilnius, capital of Lithuania, last month to marry Stasys Bikulcius, a young music teacher whom she met in high school.

"I'm prepared to fight—to fight for my own family," Leonas asserted. "Regina had love for that boy, not for Moscow."

Leonas, 45, a real estate broker, said Regina had mixed emotions when she left March 21 for Lithuania, formerly a nation but now a state in the Soviet Union.

"She expected happiness in marriage," he said. "She wouldn't believe us when we told her the danger of communism—that the Russians might be setting a trap for her. She had not been entirely happy here because she was lonely for the boy."

Leonas and his wife, Elena, 44, fled their Lithuanian home in 1944 for Germany, leaving Regina and their son, Tomas, now 20, with their maternal grandparents on a farm near Vilnius.

The Leonas' spent three years in Germany, three years in England and three years in Canada before coming to Chicago in 1953. They became citizens in 1959.

From 1944 to 1955, they did not know whether Regina and Tomas were alive.

Mrs. Leonas in 1955 wrote a friend and found that the children were alive. Efforts were initiated to bring them to the United States.

They got a promise from Soviet Premier Khrushchev during his 1959 tour in the United States that Regina and Tomas would be released. They arrived in Chicago in 1960—after 16 years of separation from their parents.

Tutors Strike,

margin of 313 votes to strike the 900 schools.

The union leadership immediately closed ranks. It was predicted that up to 10,000 teachers would be on the picket lines today and that at least 30,000 would fail to show up for work.

The federation, which has 15,000 members, is the bargaining agent for all 40,000 public school teachers.

The union called a one-day postponement so the rank-and-file could be heard on the city's latest offer—$28 million and an indefinite strike postponement while a three-man committee sought additional money for education. The $28 million would be for pay increases in the next fiscal year.

Cogen and other leaders pleaded for acceptance of that offer, but the strike vote directed negotiators not to settle until the Board of Education "agrees to make available more than $33.8 million."

Cogen, who immediately lined up with the majority, said teachers were victims of a "starvation budget."

The teachers, whose present wages range from $4,800 to $8,600 a year with bonuses for special categories, originally had asked $53 million. The city said it would be hard-pressed to come up with even $27 million.

Dr. Hedges Member of OMHA Group

Dr. Robert E. Hedges, 836 E. Park St., has been appointed to serve as a member of a statewide committee of The Ohio Mental Health Association, Inc., 1962 Mental Health Week Committee, it was announced by Walter G. Nord, Oberlin, OMHA President.

The Committee is being chairmaned this year by Joe E. Brown, Ohio born actor, and is making plans for the observance of the annual event in every community, to be held from April 29 to May 5.

Nord said, "The progress being made against mental illness and toward better mental health for all, bears a direct relationship to the increasing interest of the citizen. The modern program is community oriented and because of this, needs an army of volunteers in every city, village and hamlet." He pointed to recent progress which has come about through remedial state legislation, Federal appropriations for research, and local organization working hand in hand with the state organization at the state and community level.

Other serving on the committee this year include the leading candidates for Governor of Ohio, The Ohio Director of Mental Hygiene and Correction and leaders from business, industry, the professions and many identified with the large fraternal and service organizations.

State Ag Official Disagrees Concession Games 'Gambling'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio Department of Agriculture official has taken issue with Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's ruling that concession games licensed by the department are "games of chance."

In a department hearing held Tuesday, Findley DeWolfe, administrative assistant to Director Robert H. Terhune, testified that the games are "skill, not gambling."

DeWolfe, who is in charge of issuance of licenses to concession operators who make the county and independent fair circuit, was one of several witnesses who disagreed with the attorney general's opinion.

McElroy had ruled last Oct. 7 that concession games, which operate primarily at fairs and carnivals, "include the elements of price, chance and prize, and constitute gambling."

The ruling resulted in Terhune refusing to issue licenses for games which have carried the department's stamp of approval for 42 years. The Greater Ohio Showman's Association through Blaine Sickles, Columbus attorney, set up a test case. On March 5 Terhune turned down a request by Robert Keener of Columbus for four licenses. The hearing Tuesday was a result.

Solons Dance Lively Polka in White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine band mixed some lively polka numbers in with its dance music as the Kennedys gave a party for Congress.

About 1,000 senators, House members, wives and other guests turned out on Tuesday night for the black tie reception at the White House.

It was rather on the informal side with guests dipping into the buffet and punch bowls before the hosts—President and Mrs. Kennedy—made their entrance down the ceremonial stairway into the lobby.

The Marine band orchestra played in the lobby at the start of the evening. Then the combo played in the State Dining Room and the Marine dance band entertained in the East Room.

There was some pretty sprightly stepping to polka music with the women grabbing their long skirts to get in the fancy footwork. This phase of the dancing wound up with considerable brow mopping and no participation by the Kennedys.

Mrs. Kennedy, in fact, didn't stay at the party long. She and the President came downstairs at 9:55 p.m. and the First Lady left at 10:40. The President, too, left for a while but returned and stayed until shortly after midnight.

Big City Political Bosses under Fire
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Ross Peppie, R-Allen, a candidate for nomination for U.S. senator, says big city political bossism "has played a large part in doubling Ohio's budget during the last six years."

The Lima Republican, addressing the downtown Optimist Club here Tuesday said many big city party chairmen are political bosses rather than political leaders.

Peppie said too many endorsements of candidates are made individually by chairmen, rather than by scanning committees which seek to secure the best men for office. "Such individual power," he said, "can and often does end in corruption and the choice of the very worst candidates."

Art League Spring Show Has 95 Entries

A record entry of 95 paintings by members of the Circleville Art League has been judged by Robert Gatrell, professor of art at Ohio State University.

The league's annual Spring Show is being held now through Saturday at the Pickaway County Courthouse.

Top honors were awarded to Mrs. Laura Hutzelman and Mrs. Lovenna Runyon as a result of Sunday's judging.

Mrs. Hutzelman's entry, "Ancient City," won her the Best of Show Award. The modern abstract is a watercolor. Mrs. Runyon was presented the Most Creative Award, a ceramic statuette, for "Devastation," an abstract in oils. Mrs. Runyon also won blue ribbons for entries of "A Monochrome" and "Avalanche" both oil abstracts.

BLUE RIBBONS were awarded to: Katherine Morehead for "Sisters"; O. H. Webb for "Spargusville Store"; Mary Lyons for "Heat of Summer"; Noreen Smith for "Number Forty-Two"; Robert Turner for "Hocking County"; O. H. Webb for "Hocking County"; Ruth Montelius for "Boy"; O. H. Webb for "Artist's Dream"; Virginia Kuhns for "City"; Evelyn Bastian for "Fisherman's Paradise".

Following Sunday's judging, the league held a dinner at the Pickaway Arms in the honor of Prof. Gatrell.

The OSU professor held a critique for league members. Each entry was discussed in individual merits.

The league's next exhibit will be May 20 in the Ohio Union at Ohio State University, Columbus.

Injunction Looms in Shipping Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to issue orders today that could result in a court-directed stop of the West Coast shipping strike by nightfall.

Justice Department attorneys were reported already in San Francisco ready to go into court with an 80-day injunction plea as soon as they get the signal from Washington.

The strike, now in its fourth week, has crippled West Coast shipping and curtailed delivery of vital supplies to the island State of Hawaii. Gov. William F. Quinn has declared a food emergency in the islands and appealed to the White House to intervene.

Officials practically ruled out the chances of an 11th-hour settlement.

Boosters Favor New High School

The Circleville Booster Club, initially in favor of erecting new athletic facilities here, is now leaning toward the possibilities of a new high school.

Booster officers and directors looked at the existing school needs in a broad scope at the high school last night. The session followed a meeting with the Circleville Board of Education last week when tentative plans for a new football stadium were submitted for consideration.

The Booster delegation was informed that the Board currently does not favor an athletic plant at Nicholas Drive School, the location proposed by the Boosters. Board members and administrators presented several arguments against separation of the athletic field from the high school.

A basic question formulated during the initial meeting with the board was whether Circleville should consider building a new high school or devote efforts to a new junior high school.

THE Booster Club last night went on record as favoring a new high school, with the provision that the present high school be established as a separate junior high.

In further discussion of long range planning, the Boosters accented the provision that any new high school should include complete athletic facilities.

The discussion of long range plans also included a study of Circleville's current debt limitation and bond retirement information now in effect.

Eugene Hanson, heading the Booster delegation which met with the school board, told members of the Citizens' Committee which has been established by the Board to study Circleville's school program and financing.

Present plans call for the Citizens' Committee to participate in a series of informative seminars in an effort to determine the city's school needs. Other school districts in the state are following the same procedure.

Several Boosters stressed the necessity of providing good schools as a priority in drawing industry and business to the Circleville community. The proposed efforts of the new Citizens' Committee were commended by the club.

Newsman-Slugger Bound to Jury
NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Frank (Screw) Andrews, who has been identified with gambling operations for many years, was bound over to the Campbell County Grand Jury Tuesday on a charge of assault and battery on a Cincinnati Post & Times-Star photographer.

The charge was filed by Byron Schumaker who alleged Andrews slugged him outside the old Flamingo Club last week. Schumaker and other newsmen and photographers had accompanied Sheriff George Ratterman to the establishment. Ratterman and deputies went to the club to confiscate equipment to cover a delinquent tax assessment.

pound of steel. He said it was a "catch-up" increase needed to offset the continuing squeeze on profits the last four years.

In 1961, U.S. Steel earnings fell to $190.2 million, equal to $3.03 a share, and were the lowest since 1952. In 1960 the company cleared $304.1 million, or $5.16 a share. U.S. Steel reports first quarter 1962 results on April 24.

President Kennedy, however, reportedly took a dim view of the hike. One of his aides said the chief executive would issue "a very strong statement against the price boost."

David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers' president, said he was "surprised, troubled and concerned" about the price hike.

Referring to the just-concluded steel-labor negotiations, McDonald said "we had no understanding and no discussion with the company on prices."

President Thomas F. Patton of Republic Steel quickly responded by saying, "Republic certainly needs a price increase, and will review the reported action of U.S. Steel immediately."

Other steel firms withheld immediate comment. Bethlehem Steel President Edmund F. Martin told a stockholders meeting Tuesday that Bethlehem was trying to hold the line on prices despite stiffening competition.

Sign of Progress

To judge from headlines, recent days have been good for revolutions and coups d'etat, and not much else. But there is more to events than the military takeover in Syria and Argentina.

If two nations retreated from what is loosely described as democracy, at least one stepped forward. Prince Rainier of Monaco announced that the Monaco constitution has been restored to force.

Rainier suspended the constitution and disbanded the legislature three years ago, when the National Council delayed approving his budget. In the old days, legislators lost their heads over things like that.

Cynics offer this reason for the restoration: Rainier is tidying up the home front in preparation for a meeting with

Charles de Gaulle, who has some unpleasant plans gambling or auto racing, but through its friendly system of laws — there is no income tax and no military draft.

This delights the citizens and itinerant tycoons, but it bothers De Gaulle. He wants to collect taxes from Monaco, which, of course, would be the ruin of the state.

But this explanation will not do. It is more cheering, if naive, to believe that the change in Monaco was the act of an enlightened "monarch," and the result of irrepressible democratic cravings among the Monegasques.

At any rate, it is surely a sign of progress in this turbulent world.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The season when the stockholder is king—or thinks he is—has started with a rush. And corporate directors look for even greater outpourings of company owners at annual meetings this spring, although fewer dramatic fights for control are on deck than last year.

Each spring there are new gimmicks for the care, enlightenment or entertainment of the stockholders that flock to these annual rites.

One is being tried here today by Celanese Corp. of America. At the entrance to the meeting room is one of those electronic machines that knows all the answers. This time it answers 100 questions and the curious shareholder is invited to push a button and get a neatly printed reply.

The company says the answers were selected after carefully studying the questions which came up at previous meetings, supplemented by some from a list drawn up by the American Society of Corporate Secretaries.

This year more annual meetings will be held in new locales. The trend toward moving such get-togethers from region to region to reach previously neglected small owners is growing. Other gimmicks include use of closed television circuits for simultaneous meetings around the land.

In many cases meeting have turned into big outings, with stockholders flocking to free lunches and plant inspections—or even to resort holidays such as the Chesapeake & Ohio throws for its faithful at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

Stockholder interest in corporations took a big spurt in the 1950s. As a result perhaps, corporate interest in stockholders took a big spurt, too. Many large companies have stockholder relations departments for their year-around appeasement. Annual reports have expanded and blossomed with color pictures and charts. Some companies send stockholders full reports of the annual meetings. Many corporate executives are briefed and rehearsed for their big day before the curious or critical owners.

Proxies have been growing in importance ever since the Securities and Exchange Commission was set up in 1934. Stock exchange rules also require brokerage houses to mail out proxy statements to stockholders when the company provides them and pays the costs. This is a big item because it is estimated that as much as half of the active customers of big brokerage houses leave their stock in the firm's name.

One big brokerage concern notes that in the 1930s companies didn't care so long as they had 51 percent of the votes before the meeting. Now they want proxies for 80 percent or more.

Although the majority of stock in most companies is held by small shareholders, management usually can count on getting the proxies of a large number of them. And, barring a hot fight for control, it usually has the big holdings of pension funds, banks with trusted accounts, and investment companies.

Mass Polio Inoculation Planned in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Academy of Medicine plans to order enough Sabin oral polio vaccine to inoculate 1,400,000 men, women, children and infants in Cuyahoga County.

The plans was disclosed Monday by the academy's Polio Advisory Committee, which plans to offer Sabin vaccine to every family in the county on a low-cost, pay-what-you-wish basis.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

The first time I saw "Charlie" he was still unconscious. Dr. Robert Smith had spotted me sitting in the waiting room while my youngest daughter was having her tonsils removed.

He said, "would you like to see what the blood program means first hand?" Dr. Smith knew that sometimes we volunteer workers in the blood program get discouraged when we do not make our quota for a visit and we wonder if all the sweat is worth it.

Charlie was a handsome young lad with blond curly hair and as he lay there on the bed a nurse was working with him. The nurse said to Dr. Smith proudly, "I think he is trying to regain consciousness; he seemed to try to answer my question about his teacher's name."

"Charlie" was only in his teens. He had been in a bad automobile collision and had both legs broken, fractured pelvis, fractured skull and concussion. He had been badly cut losing a great deal of blood before he got to the hospital.

Dr. Smith said the big factor for "Charlie" being alive was the eight pints of blood he had received in the four days he had been in the hospital since his accident. He could have not stayed alive without it.

Whenever I saw Dr. Smith after this I would ask him, "How is Charlie?" He got steadily better. This week when I asked him he was Dr. Smith told me all he needed was "more comic books to read." He is now conscious, eating well, and responding well. The cuts are healing as well as the fractures.

This story is true — only the patient's name is changed. I realize that we only had a part in the medical teamwork that led to "Charlie's" recovery, but it makes me want to ask people to, "Help your neighbor," by working in the program giving blood.

I urge citizens to support the blood program this Thursday when the bloodmobile will be at the First Methodist Church from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Call for an appointment at the Red Cross Office or walk in Thursday.

ROBERT JOHNSON

Dear Sir:

We readers have been exposed now to the preachments of "the roundtowners" and "another roundtowners" about what is wrong with downtown Circleville.

It all has been interesting, but they have given only one half of an ancient formula — the "effect" in "cause and effect."

This reader proposes to expound on one "cause" which produced the effect which, in turn, brought cries of anguish from businessmen (who have suddenly grown silent as if the whole little game were over) and those comments from the two roundtowners.

When you get right down to the basics, is downtown Circleville much different from any other town these days? Is business really much "worse" here than elsewhere?

No, it isn't any "worse" than downtown Circleville wants it to be.

The gripes come from the talkers, not the doers. The businessmen who want business has it.

Example: Brunner's. They dollyed up the place and let folks know they were in business, invited folks to come and visit. Even Brunner's was surprised by the response. Certainly, Brunner's gave away gifts and, certainly, they can't do that day after day. But the fact remains that Brun-

DR. PULLMAN, society dentist, once forgot to take a large cotton roll from a patient's mouth. She phoned an hour later to complain that she couldn't swallow properly, and was getting pretty tired of holding the wad in place. "You've always helped me before, Doctor," she reminded him. "Help me again now." Dr. Pullman was equal to the emergency. "Hold the cotton wad there just ten minutes more," he told her graciously. "Then you can take it out."

The fellow who makes exaggerated statements—a movie press agent, for example—is rarely taken seriously by anybody. Dean Leys, of Roosevelt University, cites the case, for instance, of a chronic exaggerator who lost his girl with this ill-advised note: "My Irreplaceable and Indispensable Treasure: I would climb the highest mountain for you, swim the widest river, battle the wildest animal bare-handed. Nothing will ever keep me from your side. (Signed) Your adoring Charlie. P.S. I'll be over Saturday night if it doesn't rain."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: Why should my joints ache, lumps bulge near my elbows and a rash break out on this soon after a hormone shot?

Mrs. P. B. (Calif.)

Dear Mrs. B: Sounds like a severe allergic reaction which could get worse with each hormone injection. Your doctor might want to test this allergy or change to a different drug.

Dear Doctor: Does the Rh factor cause mongolism? Both myself and another mother of a mongoloid child are Rh negative while our husbands are Rh positive.

Mrs. W. S. (Pa.)

Dear Mrs. S: No — mongolism begins during those early months when Baby first begins to grow. Rh trouble strikes during the last weeks before he arrives.

Most mongoloid babies inherit 45 normal microscopic threads (chromosomes) that blueprint all future growth — and one that's changed slightly.

Dear Doctor: Because of low thyroid function our 10-month-old daughter still can't sit up. Will she grow up retarded?

Mrs. E.F. (Conn.)

Dear Mrs. F: Some normal children lag behind and then suddenly catch up all at once.

A sluggish thyroid gland can retard a child's development, but so can parents who give up hope and lose interest in their youngster. Remember, you're as important as thyroid when your daughter tries to learn new skills!

Dear Doctor: Is one daily egg too much cholesterol for a normal diet?

Mrs. A.R. (B.C.)

Dear Mrs. R: The cholesterol in eggs is little compared to that manufactured in the liver when saturated animal fats whip up production. An average egg supplies the same amount of animal fat as half a glass of milk.

You don't have to worry about animal fats if you burn up every calorie. Eat less animal fat. But more important — don't swallow more calories than you can work off!

Dear Doctor: How often should a diabetes sufferer's blood be tested for sugar? Should the test be made before or after eating?

Mrs. E.H. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. H: Like bath water temperature, blood sugar has to be tested often until it stays at the desired level. After that, testing every 3 to 6 months may be enough.

Before-breakfast tests accurately measure total control. But testing after meals shows how your blood sugar level rises — even though not enough to pour over the dam and out the kidney.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Justice at Its Best

By George Sokolsky

The sudden exuberance of movements is undoubtedly due to discontent and unhappiness, particularly among older folks and professional men and women. This discontent expresses itself in many ways and may easily become explosive, particularly should this country suffer from excessive unemployment and a lessening of income from small investments.

Much of the discontent is reflected by stimulated and accelerated movements which must be regarded as selfishly organized by pitchmen and money-grubbers. But that does not explain why so many fine and intelligent persons join some of the wildest movements, both Communist and Ultra-Rightist. Only disoriented persons can believe much of the inaccurate and untruthful literature scattered about as evidence of schemes and plots which do not exist. Using tactics long practiced by Communists, the Ultra-Rightists smear and defame even those who are most actively anti-Communist, in order that they may spread their own line more effectively.

The hearing of General Edwin Walker was a sad display of unprepared assertions. There is no question in my mind but that the general was jobbed. If he committed a military wrong, he should have been court-martialed, in which circumstance, he would have been protected by law. At the Congressional hearing, he seemed not only unprepared but confused and his statements, as reported in the press, indicated that he made charges which he could not substantiate. It was an unfortunate performance by a man who had had a noble career in the service of his country. It has done the conservative cause great harm because mere assertion without substantiation leads to ridicule and renunciation.

Regarding the Left, Attorney General Robert Kennedy said in Los Angeles:

"The greatest danger is not from the Communist Party, but from the espionage committed by representatives of the Communist-bloc countries here."

He also said that the American Communist Party has "no following and has been disregarded by the American people for many, many years."

Such statements are true and although they seem to contradict others made by J. Edgar Hoover the FBI, who makes the correct point that in any analysis of the Communist situation, numbers do not count, he also holds that the greatest menace of the Party is its service as an espionage force for Soviet Russia. I find that these apparent differences of view are identical but each puts the emphasis on one phase of the problem.

Out of these statements, both Leftists and Ultra-Rightists have attempted to make a great issue and to give the impression that a fundamental quarrel exists between the Attorney General and the Director of the FBI. I can discover no such quarrel or any vast difference of opinion. Only those who are looking for a fight or who would like to see one, attempt to make five out of two plus two.

The law now requires the registration of the Communist Party and the indictment of its officers who fail to obey the law. Two have been brought to the courts. The preparation of a case, so that it will hold up in the courts under the rules of evidence, takes some doing and it does not matter what you or I or everybody knows to be true, under our system of law the case must be substantiated by permissible evidence. If one case is lost, a precedent is set for other cases. Therefore, the wheels of justice grind slowly. But they do grind.

The FBI, under J. Edgar Hoover, has achieved much in the exposure of Communists. If the Department of Justice prefers to hit at those engaged in espionage rather than those devoted to agitation, it probably finds it more facile to take cases into court that way. This does not represent a conflict of ideas or methods; it simply means that one agency investigates, the other prosecutes in a court. The same is true in the handling of dope cases. It took something like seven appeals before the Rosenbergs were punished: Alger Hiss had two trials and is probably seeking another.

This does not represent inefficiency. It means that as a nation we seek justice and give every man his best chance under the law. This is justice at its best. Unless we had such a system, the innocent, as well as the guilty, would suffer.

Robertson Named For JFK Film Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cliff Robertson has snagged the plum role of Lt. John F. Kennedy in "PT 109."

Robertson, 36, is a seasoned performer in both movies and television.

The Warner Bros. picture is based on wartime experiences of President Kennedy.

Robertson's selection ended months of sifting through hundreds of actors for the right man for the sensitive role.

Robertson does not look like Kennedy, but like the President, he is tall, slender, good-looking and has a thatch of brown hair.

His best-known performances are in such movies as "The Naked and the Dead," "Picnic," "Autumn Leaves," "The Girl Most Likely," and the forthcoming "My Six Loves," with Debbie Reynolds.

Much of the discontent is reflected by stimulated and accelerated movements which must be regarded as selfishly organized by pitchmen and money-grubbers. But that does not explain why so many fine and intelligent persons join some of the wildest movements, both Communist and Ultra-Rightist. Only discontented persons can believe much of the inaccurate and untruthful literature scattered about as evidence of schemes and plots which do not exist. Using tactics long practiced by Communists, the Ultra-Rightists smear and defame even those who are most actively anti-Communist, in order that they may spread their own line more effectively.

The hearing of General Edwin Walker was a sad display of unprepared assertions. There is no question in my mind but that the general was jobbed. If he committed a military wrong, he should have been court-martialed, in which circumstance, he would have been protected by law. At the Congressional hearing, he seemed not only unprepared but confused and his statements, as reported in the press, indicated that he made charges which he could not substantiate. It was an unfortunate performance by a man who had had a noble career in the service of his country. It has done the conservative cause great harm because mere assertion without substantiation leads to ridicule and renunciation.

Regarding the Left, Attorney General Robert Kennedy said in Los Angeles:

"The greatest danger is not from the Communist Party, but from the espionage committed by representatives of the Communist-bloc countries here."

He also said that the American Communist Party has "no following and has been disregarded by the American people for many, many years."

Such statements are true and although they seem to contradict others made by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, who makes the correct point that in any analysis of the Communist situation, numbers do not count, he also holds that the greatest menace of the Party is its service as an espionage force for Soviet Russia. I find that these apparent differences of view are identical but each puts the emphasis on one phase of the problem.

Out of these statements, both Leftists and Ultra-Rightists have attempted to make a great issue and to give the impression that a fundamental quarrel exists between the Attorney General and the Director of the FBI. I can discover no such quarrel or any vast difference of opinion. Only those who are looking for a fight or who would like to see one, attempt to make five out of two plus two.

The law now requires the registration of the Communist Party and the indictment of its officers who fail to obey the law. Two have been brought to the courts. The preparation of a case, so that it will hold up in the courts under the rules of evidence, takes some doing and it does not matter what you or I or everybody knows to be true, under our system of law the case must be substantiated by permissible evidence. If one case is lost, a precedent is set for other cases. Therefore, the wheels of justice grind slowly. But they do grind.

The FBI, under J. Edgar Hoover, has achieved much in the exposure of Communists. If the Department of Justice prefers to hit at those engaged in espionage rather than those devoted to agitation, it probably finds it more facile to take cases into court that way. This does not represent a conflict of ideas or methods; it simply means that one agency investigates, the other prosecutes in a court. The same is true in the handling of dope cases. It took something like seven appeals before the Rosenbergs were punished; Alger Hiss had two trials and is probably seeking another.

This does not represent inefficiency. It means that as a nation we seek justice and give every man his best chance under the law. This is justice at its best. Unless we had such a system, the innocent, as well as the guilty, would suffer.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

The first time I saw "Charlie" he was still unconscious. Dr. Robert Smith had spotted me sitting in the waiting room while my youngest daughter was having her tonsils removed.

He said, "would you like to see what the blood program means first hand?" Dr. Smith knew that sometimes we volunteer workers in the blood program get discouraged when we do not make our quota for a visit and we wonder if all the sweat is worth it.

Charlie was a handsome young lad with blond curly hair and as he lay there on the bed a nurse was working with him. The nurse said to Dr. Smith proudly, "I think he is trying to regain consciousness; he seemed to try to answer my question about his teacher's name."

"Charlie" was only in his teens. He had been in a bad automobile collision and had both legs broken, fractured pelvis, fractured skull and concussion. He had been badly cut losing a great deal of blood before he got to the hospital.

Dr. Smith said the big factor for "Charlie" being alive was the eight pints of blood he had received in the four days he had been in the hospital since his accident. He could have not stayed alive without it.

Whenever I saw Dr. Smith after this I would ask him, "How is Charlie?" He got steadily better.

This week when I asked if he was Dr. Smith told me all he needed was "more comic books to read." He is now conscious, eating well, and responding well. The cuts are healing as well as the fractures.

This story is true — only the patient's name is changed. I realize that we only had a part in the medical teamwork that led to "Charlie's" recovery, but it makes me want to ask people to, "Help your neighbor," by working in the program and giving blood.

I urge citizens to support the blood program this Thursday when the bloodmobile will be at the First Methodist Church from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Call for an appointment at the Red Cross Office or walk in Thursday.

ROBERT JOHNSON

Dear Sir:

We readers have been exposed now to the preachments of "the roundtowner" and "another roundtowner" about what is wrong with downtown Circleville.

It all has been rather interesting, but they have given only one half of an ancient formula — the "effect" in "cause and effect."

This reader proposes to expound on one "cause" which produced the effect which, in turn, brought cries of anguish from businessmen (who have suddenly grown silent as if the whole little game were over) and those comments from the two roundtowners.

When you get right down to the basics, is downtown Circleville much different from any other town these days? Is business really much "worse" here than elsewhere?

No, it isn't any "worse" than downtown Circleville wants it to be.

The gripes come from the talkers, not the doers. The businessman who wants business has it.

Example: Brunner's. They dotted up the place and let folks know they were in business, invited folks to come and visit. Even Brunner's was surprised by the response. Certainly, Brunner's gave away gifts and, certainly, they can't do that day after day. But the fact remains that Brun-

Solaqua Club Has Meet at South Bloomfield

The Solaqua Garden Club met Friday in the home of Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, South Bloomfield with 23 members and two guests attending.

A luncheon was served at noon by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Homer Peters and Mrs. Lawrence Neff. Guests were Mrs. Cecil Neff, Darbyville, and Mrs. Lewis Berry, Ashville.

Following the luncheon a home-demonstration party was presented as a money-making project of the group.

A contest on birds was held with Mrs. Homer Peters in charge. First prize was won by Mrs. Frank Grise.

The business meeting was called to order by Mrs. C. W. Hedges. Mrs. Cecil Ward read a poem entitled, "There is No Unbelief" followed by recitation of "The Lord's Prayer."

The present slate of officers were retained to serve another year. They are: Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president; Mrs. Lee Downs, vice president; Mrs. Ben Walker, secretary; and Mrs. Paul Stout, treasurer.

A report was given by the president on a recent luncheon held in Lancaster for all garden club presidents of District No. 9.

Plans were discussed for the Rose Breakfast as an event of early June, to be sponsored by the Solaqua Club.

A plant exchange concluded the meeting.

A covered-dish dinner will be featured for the May meeting in the home of Mrs. L. C. Schiff. The meeting will also be "guest day" and all members are urged to bring at least one guest.

Dear Abby: There ARE Two Sides!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would print something in your column about hairdressers. Why do they think they have to talk all the time? I do go to the beauty parlor for a hair-do, not to listen to how hard they work, petty gossip about the other employees in the shop and all the dirt about the person they took care of before me. I travel quite a bit and find that it is the same no matter where I go. My husband says this is true of barbers, too.

DEAR BORED: I also travel quite a bit, and I get the other side of the story. Hairdressers tell me they wish their customers would just relax and be quiet instead of telling them their troubles and gossiping about everyone they know. My husband gets around a lot, and tells me this is what the barber tells him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in our dorm who is a knockout to look at. She has a face and figure every girl envies and she has a great personality to go with it. Our problem is that she must be afraid of men. She is asked for dates, but if a boy even tries to put his arm around her she hauls off and just about fractures his skull. They say that it is like pulling teeth to get her to go out a second time with a fellow who is even mildly affectionate. How can we help her?

DORM MATES
DEAR DORM MATES: Fix her

up with a dental student!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nine years. I married young just to get out of the house. I was completely honest with my husband and told him before he married me that I didn't love him. He said he would take that chance and I would learn to love him later.

We have five beautiful children. I respect him and admire him and am proud to be his wife because he is a kind and generous man and a wonderful father, but I still have not learned to love him. I am a good and faithful wife, but I know now that I will never have the kind of love every woman dreams of. (Not within my marriage at least.) Should I continue this loveless marriage? I am thinking of my children.

MISSING SOMETHING
DEAR MISSING: Keep thinking of those children. Many women have written to tell me that they married for "love (the kind every woman dreams of) but it didn't last long. The reasons: they neither admired nor respected their husbands. If yours is kind, generous and a wonderful father, count your blessings. No one has everything.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacqueline Brannon and William Plum were candidates for initiation. Officers for the ceremony were most excellent chief, Mona Morrison; excellent senior, Jill Reese; excellent junior, Virginia Boyer; manager, Catherine Little, secretary, Dorothy Cook; treasurer, Rosemary Plum; protector, Joyce Gloyd; guard, Arlene Fortner; past chief, Billie Campbell and pianist, Kate Lemon.

The Degree Staff with Gladys

Rush as captain assisted in the work. Members of the staff were Gladys Odaffer, Helen Irwin, Mildred Morrison, Marilyn Sabine, Pearl Fortner, Caroline Pritchard, Charlotte Rife, Roseanna Young, Jean Schiff, Phyllis Williams, Clarice Farmer, Betty Smith, Hilda Nance, Carolyn Peters, Mona Trego, and Madge Baum. The officers and staff members wore pastel formal.

Guests attending were from Thurston, Springfield, Columbus, Newark, Canal Winchester, Adelphi, Marion, Median, Toledo, Laurelville, Amanda, Oxford, Nevada, Harrisburg, Mt. Sterling Portage, Gambier, Circleville and Fredericktown.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh High Bridge Player

Mrs. B. B. Deffenbaugh was high player during yesterday's Monthly Bridge Luncheon at the Pickaway Country Club.

The luncheon was attended by 34 ladies. Bridge followed the lunch. Second high in bridge was Mrs. Forrest McGinnis, Mrs. Charles Fullen was third.

Pickaway Garden Club Hears Address by Bird Authority

Thirty members and guests of the Pickaway Country Garden Club heard Charles Goslin, bird authority and bird bander of Lancaster, speak last night at a dinner meeting held in the Circleville high school social rooms.

Goslin drew pictures in color and described many species and varieties of birds. Goslin said the news story of the year as far as birds are concerned, is that evening grosbeaks, rare in this vicinity were seen in huge numbers.

A Rockbridge woman had purchased over 250 pounds of sunflower seeds to keep even evening grosbeaks permanently interested in her bird feeders. The birds have stayed until now but will migrate north at any time. Goslin saw a flock of 600 evening grosbeak in Lancaster.

Goslin told his audience that birds were divided into four groups, permanent residents, winter migrants, migrants and summer migrants.

He said that it is the mature bird which is always pictured in bird books. Birds actually have different plumage when they are young and at maturity.

Goslin believes that nature provides a working balance for native birds. It is when birds like the house sparrow and starling are introduced that the population cannot be controlled. Neither of these birds is native.

Mrs. Millor Dunkel, program chairman, announced a question and answer period following Goslin's talk. The speaker answered many questions during this session.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer, president, conducted the business session which preceded Goslin's talk. She announced that the garden books presented to the Pickaway County District Public Library are now ready for loan. The club's name is to be inscribed in each book. These books are all on the reading list of National Council Flower Show Schools.

Mrs. Charles Thompson distributed the flower show schedules for the club's annual spring flower show which will be held May 16 at the Lutheran church parish house. A luncheon for club members and their guests will be held at 1 p. m. at Pickaway Arms the day of the show.

Mrs. James Moffitt announced the workshop for April 24. Mrs. E. E. Porter, Springhill Road

Ladies Aid To Meet

The Ringgold EUB Ladies Aid will meet at 2 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Melvin Barr, Route 1, Ashville.

will be hostess. Mrs. M. E. Noggle and Mrs. Leslie May served as co-chairman of the cooperative dinner. On their committee were: Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Mrs. Harry Stoker, Mrs. F.W. Anderson and Mrs. Merrel Routt. Decorations were big window arrangements of forsythia and daffodils.

Guests were: Mrs. Pryor Harmount, Mrs. John Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reichelderfer and daughters, Lynn and Susan, Miss Marvina Holderman, Miss Winifred Parrett and Schubert Measamer.

Solaqua Club Has Meet at South Bloomfield

The Solaqua Garden Club met Friday in the home of Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, South Bloomfield with 23 members and two guests attending.

A luncheon was served at noon by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Homer Peters and Mrs. Lawrence Neff. Guests were Mrs. Cecil Neff, Darbyville, and Mrs. Lewis Berry, Ashville.

Following the luncheon a home-demonstration party was presented as a money-making project of the group.

A contest on birds was held with Mrs. Homer Peters in charge. First prize was won by Mrs. Frank Grise.

The business meeting was called to order by Mrs. C. W. Hedges. Mrs. Cecil Ward read a poem entitled, "There Is No Unbelief" followed by recitation of "The Lord's Prayer."

The present slate of officers were retained to serve another year. They are: Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president; Mrs. Lee Downs, vice president; Mrs. Ben Walker, secretary; and Mrs. Paul Stout, treasurer.

A report was given by the president on a recent luncheon held in Lancaster for all garden club presidents of District No. 9.

Plans were discussed for the Rose Breakfast as an event of early June, to be sponsored by the Solaqua Club.

A plant exchange concluded the meeting.

A covered-dish dinner will be featured for the May meeting in the home of Mrs. L. C. Schiff. The meeting will also be "guest day" and all members are urged to bring at least one guest.

Dear Abby: There ARE Two Sides!

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would print something in your column about hairdressers. Why do they think they have to talk all the time? I do go to the beauty parlor for a hair-do, not to listen to how hard they work, petty gossip about the other employees in the shop and all the dirt about the person they took care of before me. I travel quite a bit and find that it is the same no matter where I go. My husband says this is true of barbers, too.

BORED
DEAR BORED: I also travel quite a bit, and I get the other side of the story. Hairdressers tell me they wish their customers would just relax and be quiet instead of telling them their troubles and gossiping about everyone they know. My husband gets around a lot, and tells me this is what the barber tells him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in our dorm who is a knockout to look at. She has a face and figure every girl envies and she has a great personality to go with it. Our problem is that she must be afraid of men. She is asked for dates, but if a boy even tries to put his arm around her she hauls off and just about fractures his skull. They say that it is like pulling teeth to get her to go out a second time with a fellow who is even mildly affectionate. How can we help her?

DORM MATES
DEAR DORM MATES: Fix her

up with a dental student!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nine years. I married young just to get out of the house. I was completely honest with my husband and told him before he married me that I didn't love him. He said he would take that chance and I would learn to love him later.

We have five beautiful children. I respect him and admire him and am proud to be his wife because he is a kind and generous man and a wonderful father, but I still have not learned to love him. I am a good and faithful wife, but I know now that I will never have the kind of love every woman dreams of (Not within my marriage at least). Should I continue this loveless marriage? I am thinking of my children.

MISSING SOMETHING
DEAR MISSING: Keep thinking of those children. Many women have written to tell me that they married for "love (the kind every woman dreams of)" but it didn't last long. The reasons: they neither admired nor respected their husbands. If yours is kind, generous and a wonderful father, count your blessings. No one has everything.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh High Bridge Player

Mrs. B. B. Deffenbaugh was high player during yesterday's Monthly Bridge Luncheon at the Pickaway Country Club.

The luncheon was attended by 34 ladies. Bridge followed the lunch. Second high in bridge was Mrs. Forrest McGinnis, Mrs. Charles Fullen was third.

Pickaway Garden Club Hears Address by Bird Authority

Thirty members and guests of the Pickaway County Garden Club heard Charles Goslin, bird authority and bird bander of Lancaster, speak last night at a dinner meeting held in the Circleville high school social rooms.

Goslin drew pictures in color and described many species and varieties of birds. Goslin said the news story of the year as far as birds are concerned, is that evening grosbeaks, rare in this vicinity were seen in huge numbers.

A Rockbridge woman had purchased over 250 pounds of sunflower seeds to keep evening grosbeaks permanently interested in her bird feeders. The birds have stayed until now but will migrate north at any time. Goslin saw a flock of 600 evening grosbeak in Lancaster.

Goslin told his audience that birds were divided into four groups: permanent residents, winter migrants, migrants and summer migrants.

He said that it is the mature bird which is always pictured in bird books. Birds actually have different plumage when they are young and at maturity.

Goslin believes that nature provides a working balance for native birds. It is when birds like the house sparrow and starling are introduced that the population cannot be controlled. Neither of these birds is native.

Mrs. Miller Dunkel, program chairman, announced a question and answer period following Goslin's talk. The speaker answered many questions during this session.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer, president, conducted the business session which preceded Goslin's talk. She announced that the garden books presented to the Pickaway County District Public Library are now ready for loan. The club's name is to be inscribed in each book. These books are all on the reading list of National Council Flower Show Schools.

Mrs. Charles Thompson distributed the flower show schedules for the club's annual spring flower show which will be held May 16 at the Lutheran church parish house. A luncheon for club members and their guests will be held at 1 p. m. at Pickaway Arms the day of the show.

Mrs. James Moffitt announced the workshop for April 24. Mrs. E. E. Porter, Springhollo Road

Europe Political Union Is Sought

Adenauer Has Hope For Common Mart

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared Tuesday he hopes the first steps toward a political union among the Common Market nations will be completed in July.

Adenauer said he based his hopes on his talks in Italy last week with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani.

"A solution became apparent which is somewhat different from existing plans but this is not important," Adenauer said during a Bundestag debate on the 1962 budget.

"I hope that there will be agreement with Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg when the foreign ministers of the European Economic Community meet in Paris next week and that it will come to a heads-of-government meeting in Rome in the first half of July, where the first step toward a political union could be attained."

He added that political union could be reached by the nations working toward it patiently, step by step.

The chancellor did not go into details of his discussion with Fanfani. However, authoritative sources said agreement was reached between French President Charles de Gaulle and Fanfani at Turin last week and also at the subsequent Adenauer-Fanfani meeting that the economic policy of the existing communities — the Common Market, Coal-Steel Pool and Euratom — should not be affected by a political union.

The sources also said that there was agreement by the three government chiefs that political union would not affect the individual nations' relations with the Atlantic Alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military structure.

West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg want a supranational organization related to NATO and the existing communities. De Gaulle, however, has opposed a supranational authority because he wants to play a free hand in advancing French influence.

Ohio Mayors Seek Sharing of Taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Village Mayors of Ohio, a year-old organization which branched from the Ohio Mayors Association, is beginning a fight for legislation to require sharing of municipal income taxes.

Robert W. Akron, mayor of Cardington and president of the organization, said his group now includes 57 active members from villages in central and northern Ohio. A meeting is scheduled next Sunday at Mt. Orab, Brown County, with 12 mayors of southern Ohio communities.

Some small communities whose residents work in cities and pay city income taxes have fought for some years for a share of the money their residents contribute to the larger communities via income taxes.

BATTLE PRACTICE—Getting ready for the annual Dixie water polo tournament April 14-15, Barbara Cooper (left) and Judy Rosch get in trim with a pillow fight at Cypress Gardens, Fla. They are co-holders of the women's jumping record, and each will be trying to get sole ownership of the title.

'Counterfeit Traitor' Film May Be Another Blockbuster

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The full panorama of wartime Europe is captured in "The Counterfeit Traitor," a well-made new film that follows the adventure pattern of "The Guns of Navarone."

Paramount hopes that its new film will follow the same money-making pattern, since "Navarone" was the most profitable film of 1961.

"The Counterfeit Traitor" could also be a blockbuster. It offers equally exciting wartime heroics with an added factor that "Navarone" lacked: Credibility.

The basic facts of "The Counterfeit Traitor" are patterned after the real-life adventures of Eric Erickson. He is an American-born Swedish businessman who did business with the Nazis while reporting oil targets for Allied bombers.

Producer William Perleberg and director-writer George Seaton have done a marvelous job in recreating the look and sound of Germany, Sweden and Denmark during the war. They wisely cast actors in the countries where they filmed. William Holden, Lilli Palmer and Hugh Griffith are the only players recognizable to the American public.

Seaton embroiders episode on episode until the audience is completely involved in the pattern of espionage. The film starts slowly and sometimes clings to coincidence. But once it starts rolling, there is no escape from the tension of suspense.

It is hard to imagine any actor doing as good a job as Holden in the role of Erickson. He assumes the work as spy reluctantly; circumstances later bring his total involvement. The Holden art has perhaps never been fully appreciated. He won his Oscar for playing a heel in "Stalag 17"—typical of the academy's perversity in rewarding offbeat casting.

What Holden does best—better than any other actor—is to play the American hero of today: Realistic, tough, but basically fair. Though Erickson was a naturalized Swede, Holden's portrayal is obviously American.

Five Candidates Seek Governorship

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of stories, compiled by the Associated Press, on candidates for statewide offices in the Ohio primary elections May 8. Today's sketch tells of the five candidates for governor.

GOVERNOR

Michael V. DiSalle, Democrat
Michael V. DiSalle, Ohio's first four-year term governor and a determined advocate of a more liberal state policy in many fields, is a candidate for renomination and reelection on the Democratic ticket. He has two opponents.

DiSalle, frustrated by a year of dealing with a Republican legislature which standing pat on a "no-new-taxes" platform, announced last Oct. 20 that he was bowing out of a reelection bid in order to fight for his programs "unencumbered by a candidacy." But, last Jan. 12, the governor said he had decided half-way measures were not enough to win his fight and he got back into the race.

The former Toledo mayor was swamped by Republican C. William O'Neill in his bid for the governor's chair in 1956, but he turned the tables in 1958 and defeated O'Neill by an ever greater margin.

Earlier, in 1950, DiSalle failed to win the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate and shortly thereafter was tapped by former President Truman to be U.S. price czar during the Korean conflict. He was the Democratic nominee for the Senate in 1952, but was unsuccessful in his efforts to unseat Republican John W. Bricker.

DiSalle was born in New York City, Jan. 6, 1908. He came to Ohio with his family at the age of three. He was reared in Toledo and attended the parochial and public schools. He completed his legal education at Georgetown University in 1931.

Mark McElroy, Democrat
Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy of Cleveland is one of three candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor.

He is the first attorney general to serve a four-year term under the term-extender setup adopted by Ohio voters in the mid-1950s.

The attorney general is 53. He has been an attorney 27 years. His political career began when he was elected Cleveland city councilman in 1937. He was reelected in 1939 and 1941, but interrupted his third term to serve as a member of the U.S. Army Security Intelligence Corps 1942-45.

After the war, McElroy served in the Ohio House (1945-51) and in the Ohio Senate (1951-53).

The gubernatorial aspirant is a graduate of Cleveland schools, Kenyon College and Western University Law School.

Alexander G. Metrakos, Democrat
Alexander G. Metrakos, 40-year-old Cleveland bachelor, seeks the Democratic nomination for governor on a legalized-gambling platform. This is his first bid for statewide office.

Metakos was born in Cleveland. He lists his present business as "none" and his future business as "question-mark." He has, until recently at least, been a building contractor.

He is a high school graduate and attended the University of Arizona. He lists himself as a member of the Greek Orthodox faith.

In 1959 he ran for mayor of Cleveland and in 1960 he sought election to the Ohio Senate. Neither political venture was successful. In a second for the mayor's office last year, he was ruled off the ballot on a question of residence.

James A. Rhodes, Republican
Republican James A. Rhodes of Columbus, now in his third term as state auditor, is making his third bid for the office of governor.

Rhodes, while he was slightly past the middle of this 10-year tenure as mayor of Columbus, sought the GOP nomination for governor in 1950, but ran second to the then-State Treasurer Don H. Ebricht.

Four years later, in the middle of his first four-year term as auditor, Rhodes won his party's nomination for the state's highest office unopposed, but he lost to Democrat Frank J. Lausche in the general election by slightly more than 200,000 votes.

Rhodes' margin of victory in 1960 over Democrat James D. Ferguson, as he won a third term as auditor, was a shade under 700,000 the largest majority ever for a candidate on the state ballot.

The GOP gubernatorial aspirant was born Sept. 13, 1909, in Coalton, Jackson County. He was eight years old when his father died but he and his mother and two sisters managed to stay together through years of privation. The family moved to Springfield where Rhodes finished high school. He then attended Ohio State University.

William L. White, Republican
One of two candidates for the Republican nomination for governor is William L. White of Mount Vernon who describes himself as a business engineer. He holds degrees in both mechanical and electrical engineering.

White lists himself as an inventor, oil operator, lecturer and hobbyist in addition to operating a nationwide rabbit business. A former Newark resident, White was a candidate for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in 1948, but was unsuccessful. He got 52,000 votes, less than one-tenth the total piled up by Thomas J. Herbert. He also was unsuccessful in his bid for state senate in 1960.

Retired Realtor Robbed Of Bonds, Cash, Diamond

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A 73-year-old retired realtor was the victim of a strongarm robbery in which $23,000 in government bonds and $2,300 in cash were taken. Two men, after forcing their way into the home of Naseef Sowma, bound and gagged him. They got a $500 diamond ring and a .32-caliber automatic pistol besides the other loot, police said.

Ex-Bellefontaine Chief Backed by Dem Leaders

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — Former Bellefontaine mayor G. Louie Wren has announced that the seven Democratic county chairmen in the 13th-31st District have endorsed him as write-in candidate for nomination to the Ohio Senate.

Also seeking the nomination to contest for the seat held by J.E. Simpson, R., Hardin, before he died last month is John Birch. Birch lost to Simpson in the 1958 and 1960 elections.

Fallout—What it means to you

Many readers are concerned and confused about the effects of radioactive fallout. The most often asked questions are, "What are the dangers of fallout?" and "Should I build a shelter or not?" During the next several weeks Medical Mirror will discuss these problems which confront us all.

Effects Of Exposure

Scientists have learned much about the effects of exposure to intensive radiation by observing people who have been accidentally over-exposed and from studies on animals. On the other hand, little is known about the effects of prolonged exposure to low levels of radiation, such as that which comes from the earth itself and from outer space ("background radiation"), that from radioactive industrial wastes, or that due to fallout from nuclear explosions. It is generally agreed that there is no level of radiation exposure below which harmful effects may not occur to at least a few people where a sufficiently large population is involved. This is known as the "nonthreshold" concept.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

- Cabbage Juice
- Altitude and Hearing

Q. I have heard that regular use of cabbage juice cures stomach ulcers. Is this true?

A. Tests with fresh cabbage juice in treatment of peptic ulcer have been conducted for about 10 years. The anti-ulcer factor is called vitamin U. Some investigators claim a high percentage of cures when fresh cabbage juice is used with an ulcer diet. However, the cabbage juice treatment is still experimental.

Q. I live in a western city (altitude, 6000'). The man from whom I purchased a hearing aid said that my hearing would improve as much as 50 per cent by living at sea level. Is this true?

A. So far as we know there is no scientific evidence that barometric pressure commonly experienced would have any influence on deafness. Send questions to Science Editors, P. O. Box 1174, Louisville 1, Ky. It's wise to have a family physician. Then, if an emergency arises, you will not be a stranger to him. And remember, our friendly and competent staff will be glad to serve your prescription needs.

Five Candidates Seek Governorship

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of stories, compiled by the Associated Press, on candidates for statewide offices in the Ohio primary elections May 8. Today's sketches are of the five candidates for governor.

Many readers are concerned and confused about the effects of radioactive fallout. The most often asked questions are, "What are the dangers of fallout?" and "Should I build a shelter or not?" During the next several weeks Medical Mirror will discuss these problems which confront us all.

As of early 1962, fallout levels resulting from nuclear tests were not sufficiently high to cause undue alarm for public safety. However, federal, state and local authorities have kept a watchful eye on the situation in order to institute any necessary protective measures.

Effects Of Exposure

Scientists have learned much about the effects of exposure to intensive radiation by observing people who have been accidentally over-exposed and from studies on animals. On the other hand, little is known about the effects of prolonged exposure to low levels of radiation, such as that which comes from the earth itself and from outer space ("background radiation"), that from radioactive industrial wastes, or that due to fallout from nuclear explosions. Missionary Zone Rally Set By Local Nazarene Church inside w-art no 11 missionary eg There will be a Missionary Zone Rally in the Circleville Church of the Nazarene on Friday with services at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Participating churches are Circleville, Darbyville, Chillicothe First, Chillicothe West Side, Kingston, Lancaster, Logan, Pleasantville and Lithopolis. The special speaker for these sessions will be Rev. B. Maurice Hall.

Rev. Hall, a Nazarene teacher and missionary to Nyasaland, Africa, is on furlough in the United States doing deputation work among churches of the denomination.

Assigned abroad in 1956, Rev. Hall has been active in general missionary work in Nyasaland.

FOR THE last three years, he has been in charge of the Nazarene station at Limbe and head of a Bible School there.

In his missionary talks, he will tell of the country and its people and describe the missionary work of the Church of the Nazarene there. He will show pictures.

Rev. Hall was born at Bethany, Okla., and attended Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany. He graduated from Pasadena College, Pasadena, Calif., and attended the Nazarene Theological Seminary, Kansas City, Mo.

He pastored two Nazarene churches in California before he

House Chief Sees OK for Health Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) —Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., has expressed confidence the House will approve both medical care for the aged under Social Security and the U. N. bond issue.

McCormack talked with newsmen after the usual Tuesday morning breakfast conference of Democratic congressional leaders with President Kennedy.

He said he has expressed optimism in the past that the House will pass Kennedy's medical bill and added, "I am more optimistic than I have been in the past."

Asked the prospects in the House for the U. N. bond issue, already approved by the Senate, McCormack replied that "I think we are all right in the House."

As the measure went through the Senate, it would empower Kennedy to lend the United Nations up to $100 million or to buy its bonds in that amount to tide over the deficit from such operations as those in the Congo.

The Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield, of Montana, called attention to the fact that this is the 25th anniversary of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's first election to Congress.

He said Kennedy took note of this and congratulated Johnson during the breakfast conference.

Ohio To Recall Civil War Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Next Thursday will be the 100th anniversary of a Civil War event that put a little group of Ohio soldiers on the road to undying fame.

It was a war action that could hardly be called successful, but it was the effort — an attempt to wreck a railroad vital to the Confederate cause — that brought the fame, and subsequently Congressional Medals of Honor.

The sensational event was the Andrews Raid in Georgia in which the Ohio soldiers stole a locomotive, named "The General" for their wrecking attempt.

That locomotive will be exhibited in Columbus May 2-5 in connection with the fifth National Assembly of the Civil War Centennial.

On Saturday, May 5, at 1 p. m. descendants of the 23 Ohioans, who stole the locomotive from the Rebels will rededicate the Andrews Raid plaque in the rotunda of the Ohio Statehouse.

Eldon H. Brown of Columbus is chairman of the descendants by appointment of the Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission. He has compiled a list of some 200 persons who claim direct descent.

While a number live in Ohio, others have been found in all parts of the country. One reported from South Africa.

The famous old engine, newly reconditioned and operating under its own power, will pull into the Union Station yards at 9:30 a. m. May 2 to receive a welcome. It will be exhibited free to the public by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, its owners, under the sponsorship of the Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission.

The Railroad Community Service Committee of the Columbus area is making plans for the exhibition of the engine and a passenger coach of the same period. To make it easily available to sightseers, "The General" will occupy a track in the Little Miami yards, south of Union Station on Naughten Street.

The Andrews Raiders consisted of 22 volunteers from Ohio regiments and one civilian, led by a Union Army spy, James J. Andrews.

Garbed in civilian clothing, the soldiers stole the engine at Big Shanty, north of Atlanta, and raced north to Chattanooga. Their attempts to burn bridges behind them were frustrated by close pursuit and they finally abandoned the engine near Graysville, on the Tennessee border, having covered about 90 miles.

All the raiders were captured, and eight, including Andrews, were tried as spies and put to death. Others either escaped or were released and all were awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Red World Fails To Satisfy Basic Human Demand: Food

EDITOR'S NOTE—On an island surrounded by limitless resources of the Caribbean, Cubans can't buy enough fish. Beans, poultry and many other staples always abundant before now are rationed. In this first of two articles, an Associated Press news analyst explains why communism in Cuba and throughout the Red world fails to satisfy the primary human requirement: Food.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Here is the recipe for an indigestible Communist stew:
Mix large quantities of rigid dogma with vast centralized bureaucracy. Spice liberally with fear, adding generous portions of cautious toadism. Garnish with red tape. Bring to a boil over slow-burning resentment.

Ever since it gained power in Russia in 1917, communism in country after country has meant belt-tightening—shortages of food and consumer goods.

Why has world communism's latest acquisition, the lush, fertile island of Cuba, been forced to impose rationing in a food crisis? Fantastically, even fish—on an island surrounded by the limitless resources of the Caribbean—is in short supply for Cuban.

These seem to be the answers:
1. Communist lust for power. Once having seized it, they require enormous investment in arms to secure and protect it.
2. A fever for rapid industrialization, with heavy industry which builds more power receiving the lion's share of the national wealth.
3. Ruthless extermination of all vestiges of the past.
4. Regimentation of the population, and with this the establishment of vast bureaucracies responsible only to the center.

5. Use of national resources for political purposes abroad.

6. Frequent passive resistance among farm populations.

Cuba is the latest case in point. As communism tightens on the island's six million people, results show up in shortage. Quickly, the Army To Stress 'Buy American'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is planning a renewed "buy American" offensive among its men and families in Europe in a bid to retard the gold-dollar drain.

The new drive would be related to an expected resumption of government-paid travel to Europe by dependents of Army officers and men after a freeze of more than six months.

Pentagon action to permit such dependent travel again is likely soon.

One main reason why the travel ban has been kept in force this long has been a need, as government officials view it, to keep down the volume of dollar spending in Europe. The original reason for ordering the dependent travel suspension was to avoid impeding the movement to Europe of 40,000 Army reinforcements during the Berlin crisis.

The greatest recorded flood disaster occurred in 1887 when China's Yellow River overflowed, killing an estimated 900,000 people.

nation is drenched with Red bloc arms. All resources, effort and manpower available are geared primarily to entrenching Red power.

Thus, men and women who should be producing are marching in swollen militia ranks, waving guns serving on more than 100,000 defense committees designed as a spy system to prevent counterrevolution, or populating innumerable bureaucratic government organizations designed to keep all power in the hands of the few in the center.

As it did in other states seized by communism, agriculture in Cuba went through a convulsion. The thriving cattle industry was destroyed, farms and plantations were taken over by INRA, the Communist-controlled National Institute for Agrarian Reform. Peasants were paid in scrip and required to trade only in state-run people's stores.

With the rise of the bureaucratic police state, with all the pressures and fears it brought, individual initiative was killed. The middle class was chased out of the country, and with it too many of Cuba's skilled, educated people.

Speeches of Cuban Communist leader shave a familiar, parrot-like sound, echoing the dismal recitations heard year after year in all other Red-ruled states.

The speeches concede developments like these:

Production of sugar, always the mainstay of Cuba's economy, is dropping steadily. There is a severe shortage of cane cutters. "Socialist Sundays" have been proclaimed, dragoons—people into service and forbidding workers on collectivized plantations to take that day off. Machinery is falling into disrepair at many a sugar center.

Distribution has gone haywire. Black beans, a staple of Cuban diet, spoil in warehouses. Beans are rationed, four ounces per per diem, spoil in warehouses. Beans that finally get into distribution, bureaucrats follow orders out the window. Thus in some places, said the Communist INRA chief Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, "a degree of negative perfectionism" was achieved when the four ounces was broken up into two ounces of lentils and two ounces of black beans per person.

Distribution of meat is chaotic. There are districts which go without meat for weeks. The same applies to poultry, a favorite item of the Cuban diet.

Communist Hungary delivered refrigerator vans to Havana on an urgent basis. Rodriguez reported the chief of the "consolidated meat industry" didn't want them, so the "chief of the chicken section" grabbed all of them. Then, suddenly, all bureaucrats wanted the vans. None was available. Food spoiled.

The Cuban experience is by no means unique. It is a repetition of what has happened at one time or another in every Communist-ruled nation. Even today, more than half a century after communism first entrenched itself in Russia, the promise of abundance remains just a misty dream.

Legal Rule Given On New City Status

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled Tuesday that, when a village becomes a city, officers must be elected by their salaries being set by the legislative authority of the city, not the village.

McElroy was answering a query from State Auditor James A. Rhodes with regard to Brook Park, near Cleveland, which became a city after the 1960 census.

The village officers remained in power until an election could be held and passed an ordinance setting the salaries of the incoming city officers. McElroy held the ordinance invalid, saying only the City Council could set the salaries for city officers.

U.S. Corn Land Retirement Increase Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration farm officials have fingers crossed on reports that farmers have signed to retire more acres of corn land this year than last.

When the sign-up period ends April 14, it is likely that 23 million or 24 million acres of corn may be signed up for retirement, compared with 20.9 million acres retired last year. This would be cheering news for the administration efforts to hold down grain production.

But there may be a catch. The program has a crop insurance aspect that could make figures on the actual retirement considerably different from those in the sign-up forms.

Farmers have the privilege of signing to retire up to 40 per cent of the average acreage they used for corn in 1959 and 1960. They must retire at least 20 per cent to participate in the program. Last year a number of farmers signed to retire the maximum, but changed at planting time because production prospects were quite favorable.

In other words, many farmers this year may have signed to retire the maximum amount with the intention of reducing this amount if conditions appear favorable at planting time, but retiring the full amount if the outlook is poor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation says the farm commodity outlook is mixed.

In its spring Commodity Digest, the farm organization said record costs, slightly rising farm prices and heavy supplies are all in the picture—plus a highly uncertain international picture and an unpredictable legislative situation.

It said an Agriculture Department survey indicating a 1.4 per cent reduction in crop acres this year offers no great hope for the future. The bureau said plantings need to be cut more than that if a balance is to be achieved between production and market needs.

NEW YORK (AP) — A funny thing happened to NBC's "Tonight Show" during the week after the king of the insomniacs abdicated. The size of the audience remained just about the same as it was during Jack Paar's long reign.

According to estimates of the American Research Bureau, a rating service, the "Tonight Show" last week, in the temporary custody of Art Linkletter, rang up a score almost identical to the weekly ratings Paar achieved—under quiet conditions.

Paar's rating during the last week he was on the program was a couple of points higher than his normal average. But that was because the viewers of his final show were almost double the usual number.

That Linkletter has been able to keep a large number of the population awake—or at least has kept a lot of television sets turned on into the midnight hours—perhaps will come as a great disappointment to the rabid Paar fans, and to Paar himself.

My own explanation is that many people are still watching purely from habit. Over the years, they grew accustomed to the Paar

Ohio Blue Law Dispute Goes To High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Lawson Milk Co. employee, convicted of operating an Elyria store in violation of Ohio's Sunday closing laws, has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Robert Gilfether appealed from his municipal court conviction which was upheld by an appellate court.

The appellate court said the sale of milk and milk products were not necessary under Sunday closing laws, as amended in 1959, and affirmed that operation of the store at East Broad and Williams Streets was, in itself, a violation.

Gilfether said all milk purchasers signed statements that their purchases were necessary or incidental to recreation, sports and the like to show compliance with the revised statutes.

The company currently is backing a drive for sufficient signatures to place before November election voters a constitutional amendment to remove doubts over Sunday sale of milk and other selected products.

move was made because of the reduced budget.

RFK Presses for Ban on Literacy Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy said Tuesday "we ask for nothing more than new remedies for old wrongs" as he pressed for enactment of a bill to ban any unfair use of literacy tests to prevent Negroes from voting.

"This administration believes states may legitimately require their voters to have the ability to inform themselves about election issues," Kennedy told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

"The wrong lies in the manner in which literacy and understanding are determined," he said.

"What we propose is to substitute an objective standard for the present subjective color bar to federal voting. The bill we support recognizes a fact of our national life: persons who have completed the sixth grade are qualified to vote and are fully capable of intelligent participation in the democratic process—by any reasonable standard fairly applied," he added.

Kennedy, in his testimony, said that in 1959, in 16 counties in which Negroes of voting age were the majority, not one Negro was registered to vote. In 49 other such counties, he said, fewer than 5 per cent of the eligible Negroes were registered.

He said the principal "cause and method of discrimination has been the abuse of the so-called 'literacy' or 'interpretation' tests and similar performance tests."

Bi-State Park Area Is Hailed

Governor Also Lauds Hocking Development

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle terms "an ideal location" the 22,000-acre bi-state site being discussed by Ohio and Pennsylvania officials as a likely park area.

DiSalle says the area, which would include Beaver Creek State Park in Columbiana County, is extremely well situated since it lies half-way between Cleveland and Pittsburgh. It would be in the midst of one of the nation's most heavily populated areas, the governor pointed out.

He commented Tuesday night on a study in progress in which Herbert Eagon, Ohio natural resources director, is co-operating with officials of Pennsylvania's Department of Water and Forestry, the U.S. Park Service and the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy.

The proposed park would be about half in Northeastern Ohio and half in Western Pennsylvania. The Beaver Creek State Park portion is a 1,232-acre spread of undeveloped terrain intersected by the Little Beaver River. Most of the rest of the area also is rugged, primitive land.

The governor noted also that consolidation of the six state parks in the Hocking State Forest area is a step closer to reality. He said the Natural Resources Department's real estate section has completed appraisal of 279 properties totaling 19,589 acres which would be needed for the purpose.

The Southeastern Ohio parks involved are Old Man's Cave, Conkle's Hollow, Ash Cave, Cedar Falls, Cantwell Cliffs and Rockville.

Wilmington Mayor Cancels Dance License

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A dance at a roller skating rink was called off Tuesday night after Mayor Bates Harcum cancelled the license, saying organizers planned an attempted demonstration. The mayor said the chief backer, a Wilmington College student, had called newsmen and radio stations saying an integration demonstration was planned.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure system moving eastward across Tennessee spread light rain into the southern and central sections of Ohio during the night. Rainfall amounts were quite light, averaging less than one-tenth of an inch.

Over the northern counties, cloudy, dry weather prevailed.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 38 at Youngstown to 50 at Cincinnati. Toledo had 40, Columbus 47 and Chesapeake 46.

The Ohio weather will continue under the influence of weak low pressure systems moving through the Tennessee Valley during the next 24 hours. Mostly cloudy skies will prevail, and occasional light showers are likely at any time during the 24 hours period.

Temperature changes will be small, with high readings today and Thursday mostly in the 50s and low readings tonight mostly in the 40s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 60, normal low 39-43. Minor day-to-day temperature changes. Rain fall will average one-half inch in occasional showers remainder of week.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — What now?

A new wave of price increases and therefore another jump in living costs?

Keep your fingers crossed. A lot of industries using steel will be affected by Tuesday night's announcement of the U.S. Steel Corp. that it is raising the price of steel.

Other steel companies, as a starter, can be expected to start raising prices since the U.S. Steel Corp. usually sets the pattern for the industry.

This sudden move must have been a surprise to the Kennedy administration, judging from what it said just a few weeks ago. It may even have been a surprise to some firms in the steel industry itself.

Only a few hours before the U.S. Steel Corp. announcement President Edmund F. Martin of Bethlehem Steel was telling a stockholders meeting his firm was trying to hold the price line in the face of increasing domestic and foreign competition.

President Kennedy was so delighted when the steel union and the steel industry agreed on a new contract without a wage increase or a strike that he sent both sides telegrams.

He even told David J. McDonald, president of the union, "it is obviously non inflationary and should provide a solid base for continued price stability."

At the time of the settlement there was no public evidence that the industry, or anyone in it, planned a price increase, at least any time soon.

McDonald seemed so carried away with what he got for his members — when it was quite possible sooner or later the union benefits might affect steel prices — that he said: "let's forget about the price and look at the benefits."

Those benefits amount to about 10 cents an hour more for the workers, whose average wage is $3.28 an hour. The additional 10 cents an hour didn't go into a pay raise but into things like longer vacations, better unemployment pay, more job security.

The industry estimated the cost of the contract at about 2½ per cent of payroll costs. U.S. Steel Corp. prices which went into effect at midnight Tuesday will average about 3½ per cent more than the old prices, roughly $6 more per ton of steel.

U.S. Steel President Leslie B. Worthington said the increase was a "catchup" adjustment made necessary by a profit squeeze between rising costs and declining prices. The last price boost was in 1955.

The Kennedy administration put a lot of pressure on the industry and the union to reach a settlement before their old contract expired next June 30.

The talks began Feb. 14, an unusually early starting time for the union and industry. By March 28, it was learned, agreement had been reached.

News of this contract—which contained no wage boost, the usual excuse for a price boost — so pleased Kennedy that he told both sides they "deserve great credit for developing this imaginative program."

Tuesday Worthington seemed to be explaining the reason for the new price increase largely in terms of increased costs before this latest settlement.

This raises therefore a question: Did U. S. Steel have this price increase in mind before the settlement and, if so, why didn't U.S. Steel say so then instead of now?

The industry's steel output is about 100 million tons a year, a quarter of the world's output. It employs 430,000 men directly and, indirectly, provides jobs for another half-million. Eleven companies were involved in the settlement.

Ohioan Faces New Rhode Island Rap

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A Youngstown, Ohio man, sentenced to life imprisonment in Rhode Island, later to 30 years, and still later told both sentences were invalid, today faces a new indictment.

He is 31-year-old George Marion Gavin, charged in the robbery and slaying of Charles Kamatian in a Providence liquor store in 1950.

The appellate courts have ruled that Gavin was convicted under faulty indictments, having been denied separate counsel, and on separate occasions both sentences were overturned.

Bi-State Park Area Is Hailed

Governor Also Lauds Hocking Development

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle terms "an ideal location" the 22,000-acre bi-state site being discussed by Ohio and Pennsylvania officials as a likely park area.

DiSalle says the area, which would include Beaver Creek State Park in Columbiana County, is extremely well situated since it lies half-way between Cleveland and Pittsburgh. It would be in the midst of one of the nation's most heavily populated areas, the governor pointed out.

He commented Tuesday night on a study in progress in which Herbert Eagon, Ohio natural resources director, is co-operating with officials of Pennsylvania's Department of Water and Forestry, the U.S. Park Service and the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy.

The proposed park would be about half in Northeastern Ohio and half in Western Pennsylvania. The Beaver Creek State Park portion is a 1,232-acre spread of undeveloped terrain intersected by the Little Beaver River. Most of the rest of the area also is rugged, primitive land.

The governor noted also that consolidation of the six state parks in the Hocking State Forest area is a step closer to reality. He said the Natural Resources Department's real estate section has completed appraisal of 279 properties totaling 19,589 acres which would be needed for the purpose.

The Southeastern Ohio parks involved are Old Man's Cave, Conkle's Hollow, Ash Cave, Cedar Falls, Cantwell Cliffs and Rockville.

Wilmington Mayor Cancels Dance License

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A dance at a roller skating rink was called off Tuesday night after Mayor Bates Harcum cancelled the license, saying organizers planned an attempted demonstration. The mayor said the chief backer, a Wilmington College student, had called newsmen and radio stations saying an integration demonstration was planned.

Malays believe that even numbers are unlucky and build the stairs to their elevated houses with an odd number of steps.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure system moving eastward across Tennessee spread light rain into the southern and central sections of Ohio during the night. Rainfall amounts were quite light, averaging less than one-tenth of an inch.

Over the northern counties, cloudy, dry weather prevailed.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 38 at Youngstown to 50 at Cincinnati. Toledo had 40, Columbus 47 and Chesapeake 46.

The Ohio weather will continue under the influence of weak low pressure systems moving through the Tennessee Valley during the next 24 hours. Mostly cloudy skies will prevail, and occasional light showers are likely at any time during the 24 hours period.

Temperature changes will be small, with high readings today and Thursday mostly in the 50s and low readings tonight mostly in the 40s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 60, normal low 39-43. Minor day-to-day temperature changes. Rain fall will average one-half inch in occasional showers remainder of week.

St. Paul EUB Lists Special Weekend Service

A weekend series of Lenten evangelistic services will be held at the St. Paul EUB Church beginning 7:30 p. m. Friday the Rev. C. E. Jenkins, pastor, announced today.

Guest speaker for the special sessions will be Rev. Paul Johnson, a member of "The Christian Four" vocal quartet who will provide special music during the three-days of services.

The quartet will also present a special program of music at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The public is invited to attend all services.

FBI Joins in Search For Lebanon Escapees

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The FBI, at the request of Warden Ralph Alvis, has joined the search for four escapees from the Lebanon medium security state prison. William E. Williams, 21, and his brother, Asa, 23, of Farmersville; William J. Phillips, 21, of Athens, and James Fugate, 19, resided a cont actor's lader to scale the wall and flee March 30.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — What now?

A new wave of price increases and therefore another jump in living costs?

Keep your fingers crossed. A lot of industries using steel will be affected by Tuesday night's announcement of the U.S. Steel Corp. that it is raising the price of steel.

Other steel companies, as a starter, can be expected to start raising prices since the U.S. Steel Corp. usually sets the pattern for the industry.

This sudden move must have been a surprise to the Kennedy administration, judging from what it said just a few weeks ago. It may even have been a surprise to some firms in the steel industry itself.

Only a few hours before the U.S. Steel Corp. announcement President Edmund F. Martin of Bethlehem Steel was telling a stockholders meeting his firm was trying to hold the price line in the face of increasing domestic and foreign competition.

President Kennedy was so delighted when the steel union and the steel industry agreed on a new contract without a wage increase or a strike that he sent both sides telegrams.

He even told David J. McDonald, president of the union, "it is obviously non inflationary and should provide a solid base for continued price stability."

At the time of the settlement there was no public evidence that the industry, or anyone in it, planned a price increase, at least any time soon.

McDonald seemed so carried away with what he got for his members — when it was quite possible sooner or later the union benefits might affect steel prices — that he said: "let's forget about the price and look at the benefits."

Those benefits amount to about 10 cents an hour more for the workers, whose average wage is $3.28 an hour. The additional 10 cents an hour didn't go into a pay raise but into things like longer vacations, better unemployment pay, more job security.

The industry estimated the cost of the contract at about 2½ per cent of payroll costs. U.S. Steel Corp. prices which went into effect at midnight Tuesday will average about 3½ per cent more than the old prices, roughly $6 more per ton of steel.

U.S. Steel President Leslie B. Worthington said the increase was a "catchup" adjustment made necessary by a profit squeeze between rising costs and declining prices. The last price boost was in 1955.

The Kennedy administration put a lot of pressure on the industry and the union to reach a settlement before their old contract expired next June 30.

The talks began Feb. 14, an unusually early starting time for the union and industry. By March 28, it was learned, agreement had been reached.

News of this contract—which contained no wage boost, the usual excuse for a price boost — so pleased Kennedy that he told both sides they "deserve great credit for developing this imaginative program."

Tuesday Worthington seemed to be explaining the reason for the new price increase largely in terms of increased costs before this latest settlement.

This raises therefore a question: Did U. S. Steel have this price increase in mind before the settlement and, if so, why didn't U.S. Steel say so then instead of now?

The industry's steel output is about 100 million tons a year, a quarter of the world's output. It employs 430,000 men directly and, indirectly, provides jobs for another half-million. Eleven companies were involved in the settlement.

Derby News

The Derby MYF met at the church last Sunday evening.

Anyone wishing to supply flowers for the "Garden of Memory" at Derby Church on Easter Sunday please call Mrs. May Delay, or Mrs. Martha Vincent, or the parsonage.

It is time again to get your tickets for the annual Easter Egg Hunt. To obtain tickets just attend Sunday School next Sunday (Palm Sunday) when the tickets will be issued.

Miss Peggy Brown and her brother, Mike, were given a surprise party last Saturday evening in Fellowship Hall by their Sunday School Class and schoolmates.

Both Peggy and Mike were presented with a study lamp. The occasion was prompted by the fact that the Browns are moving away in June. Everyone in the community has enjoyed having them with us the past seven years. We are very sorry to lose this family who have become a part of our community and served it so well.

Pvt. Steve Miller has been on leave from Ft. Leonard E. Wood, Mo. where he recently completed his basic training. He has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Ridgeway, and his mother, Mrs. Marvane Walters and other friends and relatives in this vicinity. He will leave on April 12th for Ft. Riley, Kansas where he will undergo further training.

Parents of Darby Twp. High School students, should not forget the meeting of the PTG April 12th at the schoolhouse. There will be a discussion of the upcoming Bond Issue. It should be of the utmost importance to all parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Deyo have had as guests the past week their four grandchildren, children of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Deyo of Ft. Wayne, Indiana, who are spending their spring vacation here.

Miss Susi Sweet celebrated her 13th birthday on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wardell had as Sunday dinner guests Mrs. Wardell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wil-

Ham Holler of Columbus, Mr. Holler's father of Washington C. H. and Master Ricky Higgins, Orient.

Mrs. Thelma Deyo, of Huntington W. Va., spent four days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nance, returning home last Sunday.

Sunday April 8th, Miss Grace Minshall attended the 25th wedding anniversary of her nephew, Ward E. Dailey and wife of Columbus. The open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Massie, 1960 Orlando Rd., Columbus, Mrs. Massie is the former Annette Dailey, Mr. and Mrs. Dailey received several beautiful gifts.

Sunday callers at the home of Mrs. Virgie Higgins were her grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Deyo, of Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

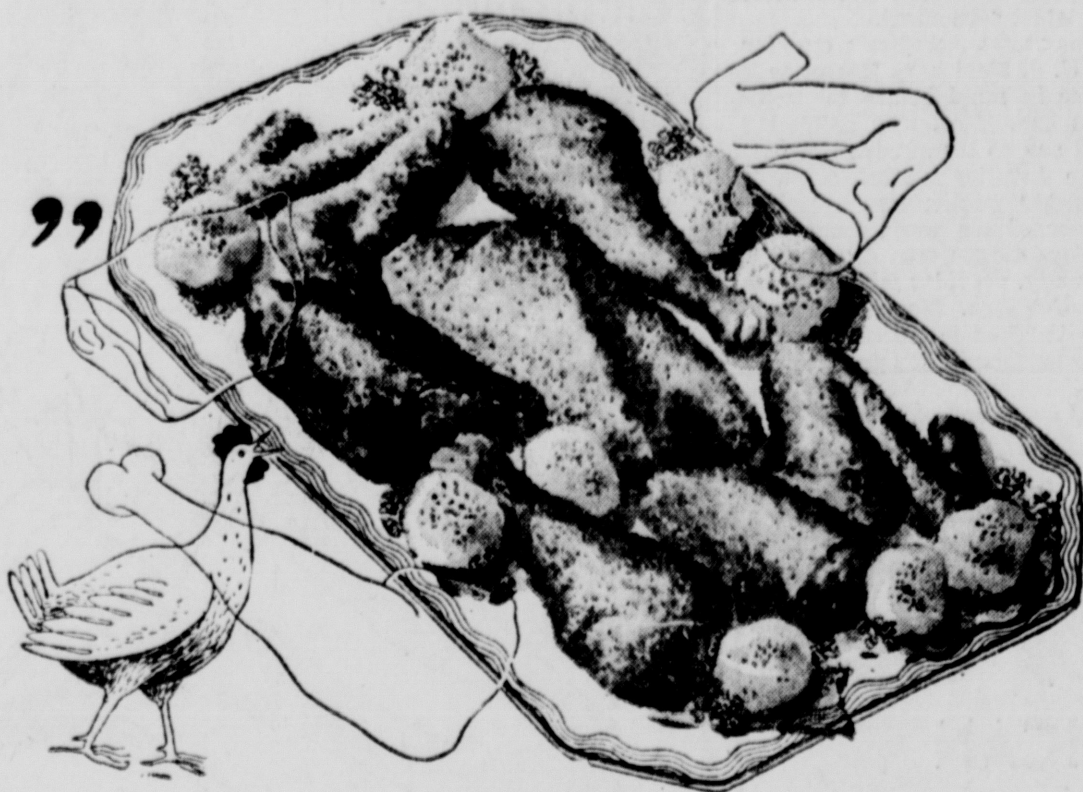

We are happy to report that Billy Stires was able to return to school the past week after an illness of six weeks.

The ladies of the Derby WSCS are planning their annual Silver Tea and Bazaar at the Derby Church on Saturday April 28th.

The Cheerio Class of Derby cancelled their April meeting because of the Lenten season.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nance and daughters were Saturday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nance.

Tiger Baseballers Down Chillicothe Second Time, 5-3

Circleville scored one run in the fourth, two in the fifth and two in the seventh to down Chillicothe 5-3 yesterday on the Cavaliers home diamond.

George Reeser was credited with the win although he was relieved by Sam Weller in the bottom of the seventh inning. Until the seventh, Reeser pitched an excellent game for the Tiger nine.

The CHS starter allowed only four hits, struck out three and walked seven. In the top of the seventh he issued passes to the first two men up, Dan Willis and John Clay. Coach Dick Fisher called time out and summoned Weller to finish the game.

Willis and Clay had advanced to second and third on a wild pitch. Myers, the first man Weller faced hit a ground ball to Jim Wellington at short. Wellington checked the runner at third, and then made the throw to first in time to nail the batter.

Miner lined out to Dave Bass and then Howard Kassukles singled to drive in another run for the Cavaliers. The next man up, Tom Wolford, hit a long foul down the left field line, but Gerald Dade came over to make the catch.

THE TIGERS scored their first run in the fourth inning when Fred Moore, the first man up, doubled. He stole third on a wild pitch. Then Big Dick Kline hit a stand up triple to center field and Moore scored easily from third. Mark Meyers, Chillicothe's sophomore fireballer, retired the next three men that faced him.

In the fifth inning, Reeser stole home when the Chillicothe catcher let a pitch get past him. Wellington, who had hit a double earlier in the inning to advance Reeser to third, scored when Moore singled, and the Tigers went ahead 3-2. The next batter, Kline, grounded out to second base to retire the side.

The next big inning for Circleville was the top of the seventh. Copeland, who was walked by Beeler, advanced to second on Reeser's sacrifice bunt. Wellington walked.

Copeland and Wellington then scored when Dave Bass' hard hit ground ball sizzled past the first baseman into left field. Circleville's next two men up struck out.

ville's next two men up struck out.

In the bottom of the fifth inning Dade and Lagore went in for Leonard Eblin and Gary Stewart.

Myers, the losing pitcher, allowed six hits. He walked only one Tiger batter and struck out nine. Beeler, the Cavalier reliever, walked two, was touched for one hit and fanned two.

Friday Dick Fisher's crew hosts Franklin Heights, the defending SCO league champs, at Ted Lewis park. Then on Saturday they travel to Logan for a doubleheader.

Redlegs Like Dodgers' New Baseball Park

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds took kindly to the Los Angeles Dodgers new stadium in Chavez Ravine right off Tuesday.

The very first batter, Eddie Kasko, drilled a double to the left field corner and eventually scored the first run of the Reds' 6-3 victory.

The very first home run struck in the ball park was a three-run blast by Wally Post in the seventh inning that won the game.

A throng of 52,564 was on hand for a game that proved gratifying for the Reds in several ways.

Just a few days ago, there was some concern over Post's poor hitting during spring training. But Wally produced two singles before smashing his homer over the centerfield fence at the 410-foot sign.

Jim O'Toole couldn't pitch because of a sore finger, so Manager Fred Hutchinson went with righthander Bob Purkey. And Purkey came through in fine style, with the familiar late-inning help from relief specialists Billy Henry and Jim Brosnan.

Rookie third baseman Tommy Harper collected three singles in four times at bat to lift his average for two games to .500.

And Vada Pinson had a perfect day at the plate with two doubles, two singles and a walk. Pinson knocked in Kasko with the first run, scored in the sixth, was aboard on Post's decisive wallop and tallied an insurance marker in the ninth.

Wildlife Hearing Is Due April 19

There will be a wildlife hearing at 8 p. m. April 19 in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Fairgrounds.

Officials of the Wildlife Department will present proposals for suggested rule changes dealing with hunting and fishing. The purpose of the hearing is to compile recommendations of the sportsmen and farmers of Pickaway County for those rule changes.

At the same time a farmer and a sportsman representative and alternates will be elected to attend the hearing for District 5 in Chillicothe in May.

District 5 includes 15 central and southern Ohio counties.

Donovan Hurls Tight Game For Indians

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Donovan, the righthander Cleveland got in the trade for Jim Piersall, showed in the Indians' opener why he had the American League's lowest earned run average with Washington last year.

Donovan gave up just five singles and allowed one runner to reach second base in the Tribe's 4-0 victory over the Red Sox Tuesday. He struck out two men and walked only one.

It was a great day, too, for Cleveland Manager Mel McGaha, who made his major league debut. One of his first post game comments showed him to be a man who makes a strong argument.

"If you don't give up any runs you've got a chance to win," said McGaha. "Donovan was great. He moved the ball in and out and his control was just about perfect."

Chuck Essegian, John Romano and Woodie Held supported Donovan at the plate. Essegian reached base five times—on a double, a single, two walks and being hit by a pitch. Romano bagged a triple and two singles, and Held drove in two runs with two singles.

The Indians jumped into the lead with a run in the second inning off Don Schwall, last year's American League rookie, went to second on a wild pitch and to third on a ground ball. He scored on Bubba Phillips' single.

Kansas City pitchers had a 4.74 earned run record in 1961.

Logan Elmers 11-1 Victors Over Jackson

Jeff Lutz fanned 18 and allowed only four hits in pacing Logan Elm's 11-1 victory over Jackson yesterday on the Wildcats' diamond.

The Braves jumped off to a big first inning, scoring four runs, to take an early lead. In the second inning they added four more. Jackson scored its lone run in the bottom of the second.

Dick Dean cracked a homerun, the only extra base hit of the game. The Braves touched Jackson pitchers for 11 hits. Ronnie Clifton was charged with the loss. He struck out 6 and walked six.

Ed Martindale relieved late in the game. He had two strikeouts to his credit and walked one.

The Jackson nine committed four of their five errors in the first inning.

LUTZ, Logan Elm's freshman pitcher, went all the way. He allowed seven bases on balls.

Thursday in the fourth round of county league action, Logan Elm hosts Darby on the Pickaway diamond. Jackson has an open date Thursday, then resumes play Tuesday with a trip to Darby for the first encounter between the two teams.

Monroe Downs Trojans for Second Win

Monroe High School's baseball team upped its season record to two wins and one loss last night, by trouncing Darby, 8-1, in a county league contest on the losers' diamond. Darby's record, now stands at 0-3.

Randy Richardson and Mickey Hunt teamed up to limit the Trojans to one run on seven hits. Richardson went five innings before he was relieved by Hunt. The two hurlers struck out five of the Darby batters to face them.

Bob Diltz, Hunt, Rex Ingman and Ron Adams provided the power for the Indians. They collected nine of the 14 hits accumulated by the Five Points sluggers.

Rogers was the losing pitcher. He fanned five and allowed 14 hits.

JEFF TRACEY and Bob Vincent both rifled doubles for Darby.

Thursday Monroe has a league game at Walnut and Darby plays at Logan Elm.

Laker Quint Threatens To Unseat Celtics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There are signs that the Boston Celtics' mastery of the National Basketball Association is ending and that the fourth straight championship they seek may elude them.

The up-and-coming Los Angeles Lakers took a 21 lead in the best 4-of-7 NBA championship playoff series Tuesday night on a daring steal of a Boston pass with three seconds to go. It gave Los Angeles a 117-115 victory in the Sports Arena.

Jerry West, sensational Laker guard, snatched an inbound pass thrown by Sam Jones and intended for Bob Cousy. Anticipating the throw, West flashed in front of Cousy just as the ball was about to reach its target. In one sweeping motion, West started a dribble that he continued the 45 feet to the basket, where he sank a layup just as the gun sounded.

Just before this sensational play, West had been fouled by Boston's Bill Russell, and his two clutch free throws tied the score at 115-115, with the clock stopped.

First Day Jitters Escape Maris

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris said he wasn't nervous. He expected to be, but he wasn't.

"This was the first time in my six years in the major leagues that I wasn't nervous on opening day," said the man who knows the spotlight will be on him all season because of his record-breaking 61 home runs last year.

"I don't know why I was so calm," Maris said. "Maybe it's because I decided not to let anything worry me this year. I made up my mind to forget all about last year and let this year take care of itself."

Tigers Tame Scioto Nine In 5-4 Tilt

The Tigers of Walnut won their second Pickaway County baseball league game yesterday at Scioto, the Buffaloes, 5-4.

Gary Ferguson was credited with the win for Walnut. He walked two, fanned 14 and allowed only four hits.

Jim Ramey wielded the big bat for the winners, collecting three hits in three trips to the plate. Ronnie Lahmer, Ferguson and Melvin Fridley each got one hit. Ferguson's blow was a triple, and Fridley smacked a double for the only extra base hits collected by the Tigers.

Robert Wallace and Bob White side hit triples for Scioto.

RONNIE WILKINS, Scioto's hurler, fanned eight, walked three and allowed six hits.

Both teams credited with one error.

Walnut hosts Monroe Thursday in a league contest. Scioto, with no league action slated for the week, tangles with Bishop Ready today, and Holy Family tomorrow.

Scioto's overall record for the year stands at three wins and one loss. Walnut's league record is two wins and no losses.

Moose Skowron May Add Third 'M' to M&M Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Moose may be ready to add another M to the New York Yankees' M & M power trademark.

The Moose is Bill Skowron, burly first baseman for the Yankees who played the key role Tuesday as the world champions began their campaign for a third consecutive American League pennant with a 76 opening day triumph over Baltimore.

Skowron opened the Yankees' scoring with a two-run inside-the-park homer in the fourth, watched Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle keep New York close with homers, then struck a single that snapped a 66 tie in the eighth to wrap it up.

Plagued with back trouble throughout an eight-year career, Skowron spent the winter strengthening his ailing muscles with a specially designed series of exercises. He hit 28 homers last season and could join Maris and Mantle in a triumvirate of terror if he could avoid the doctor.

Maris, meanwhile, tagged home run No. 1, a three-run shot in the fifth off Billy Hoft.

Elsewhere, Dick Donovan got Cleveland off winging with a five hitter that blanked Boston 40; Chicago edged Los Angeles 21; and Kansas City defeated Minnesota 42. Detroit and Washington were not scheduled.

Skowron's game-winner came off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm and it drove in Elston Howard, who had doubled after Mantle's homer. Ralph Terry picked up the victory, taking the mound when 25 game winner Whitey Ford left after giving up eight hits and four runs in six innings. Relief specialist Luis Arroyo hurled the final inning for the Yankees.

Donovan, 34, acquired by the Indians, in the trade that sent Jimmy Piersall to Washington, made Mel McGaha's managerial debut a success with his stand out performance. While Donovan was throwing blanks, Woody Held drove in two runs, and John Romano and Chuck Essegian scored twice each to hand Red Sox starter Don Schwall the loss.

Shrewd talent appraiser Paul Richards, responsible for sticking his thumb into the National League draft bag for Houston's new entry, apparently pulled out two plums—pitcher Bobby Shantz and outfielder Roman Mejias.

Plucked by General Manager Paul Richards from the Pittsburgh roster at last year's special draft to stock the new NL clubs, the two castoffs reigned as Houston's first heroes after leading the Colts to an 112 victory over Chicago in their debut Tuesday.

Shantz, 36, pitched a strong game against the Cubs, checking the Chicagoans on five hits and keeping them away from the plate until he tired in the late innings. Meanwhile, the Colts were building a 50 edge.

Mejias, 29, a utility man, who hit his last home run Sept. 13, 1959, connected twice for the Colts, blasting a three-run shot off Don Cardwell in the third and smacking another, with two on, off reliever Al Lary in the eighth.

While the Colts were winning their debut, the New York Mets were rained out in their scheduled opener at St. Louis in a night game. They'll try to get under way tonight, sending Roger Craig against the Cards' Larry Jackson.

Elsewhere Tuesday, San Francisco opened with a 60 triumph over Milwaukee behind Juan Marichal's threehit pitching, Cincinnati ruined Los Angeles' home opener before 52,564 fans with a 63 victory, and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend shut out Philadelphia 60 on five hits.

Shantz, American League Most Valuable Player in 1952 when he posted a 247 record for the then Philadelphia Athletics, was virtually untouchable until the 290th homer of Ernie Banks' career. Jim McKnight's triple and a sacrifice fly by Lou Brock gave the Cubs single runs in the seventh and eighth innings. Hal Smith backed Mejias' efforts with another homer for the Colts.

Marichal, 24, a righthander, gave up a single to rookie Howie Bedell in the third, then held the Braves hitless until Tommy Aaron and Frank Bolling singled in the ninth. He struck out 10 and contributed to the Giants' attack against Warren Spahn with two RBI on a double and single.

Spahn, opening his bid for a 13th 20-victory season, left after 3 2-3 innings.

With two out in the seventh, the score tied 22 and one on, the Dodgers elected to walk Frank Robinson to pitch to Wally Post. Post tagged the first pitch from Johnny Podres for a homer to win it for the Reds. Bob Purkey picked up the victory for Cincinnati.

Roberto Clemente hit a Jim Owens pitch for a grand slam homer in the third inning, and Don Hoak followed with a solo shot, that put it away for the Pirates. Friend struck out five and walked only one, with Tony Taylor's double in the fifth the lone extra base hit for the Phillies.

Paroled Con To Return to Amish Area

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP) — The Amish folk of Sugar Creek, Ohio, shortly will be getting a visit from a convicted church poor box robber who "got religion" from members of their sect after escaping prison.

He is Ernest C. Collins, who broke out of jail in Rhode Island last summer. He was caught working on a Mennonite farm at Goshen, Ind.

Now paroled thanks to his newfound faith after serving only about eight months of what might have been a long sentence, Collins is going back to Goshen to resume farm life — and devote himself further to Mennonite Church work.

Collins, 23, was baptised in the Amish sect of the church last July. Representatives of the sect met him as he emerged from prison to accompany him back to Indiana.

Collins was a model prisoner after his return from freedom. "You're supposed to love thy neighbor," explained the young Rhode Islander.

Charles Spangler for the years 1950 to 1961. Several past members were in attendance.

It was explained that the four cardinal principles of the National Honor Society are scholarship, service, leadership and character. David Beavers spoke on scholarship; Chuck Spangler on service; Janet Bower on leadership; and Carol Torchick on character.

These four cardinal principles are considered over your four high school years. A scholastic average of 3.0 must be maintained.

After the tapping of the new members, the pledge of the National Honor Society was taken by the new members. Then they were presented with membership cards, pins, and banquet tickets.

The NHS prayer was given by David Beavers. The Reverend Charles Jenkins presented the address.

Following the address Sandra Grissom sang, "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by William Drum, who also played both the professional and the recreational.

With the tapping of Charles McKenzie and James Harral, two complete families have been tapped into the Logan Elm chapter of NHS. Preceding Charles are Barbara, Beverly, and Larry McKenzie and preceding Jim was Bill Harral.

A reception followed the ceremony.

Plans Progressing For Buck Cage Tilt

Setting plans for the coming basketball game with the Ohio State Buckeye senior cagers was a main item of business during last night's Booster Club meeting at the high school.

The game has been scheduled for 2 p. m. May 5 in the Circleville High School gym. Booster president Charles Hart said the afternoon tilt was slated in order to assure an appearance by Jerry Lucas who is committed to a heavy banquet speaking tour this spring.

Tickets for the game are due here this week. Hart said they will be available for sales immediately from Booster officers and directors.

The mighty Buck seniors who have made written team history the past three seasons will meet a team composed of local stars coached by Russ Gregg of Ashville and Keith Merrin of Logan Elm.

HART assigned committee heads and job assignments for the game which already has received indications of heavy fan support. John Jenkins will direct ticket sellers and takers at the game; Snap Ankrom will secure game officials and Jim Diltz will arrange for special police; CHS Coach Jack Weikert will provide a scorekeeper, timer and announcer, programs will be handled by Chet Iery.

Refreshment will be handled by the Women's Booster Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Joe Rooney.

Coaches Merrin and Gregg already have announced practice sessions for this week and on dates to follow prior to game time.

It was indicated that bleachers will be erected in the gym in order to provide a larger seating capacity.

Third Thief Shows Up 'Between Two Thieves'

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Now playing at Lima's Encore Theater is an amateur drama group production called "Between Two Thieves."

Members of the cast told police Tuesday there must have been a third thief.

During Saturday night's performance, they reported, someone stole their drama flag, the traditional black masks of comedy and tragedy on a yellow field. It's valued at $29.
